Washington—(CPA)—While there is still little indication of any definite movement in the general level of business activity, official information reveals a number of favorable developments. Thus there has been a slight rise in steel operations, a gain in cotton cloth production, a sharp increase in soft coal demand and a continued stability in the general wholesale price level.

While business is slow in many lines, some splendid efforts are being made to bring about improvement. Greater efficiency which has frequently grown out of attention to economies is perhaps the outstanding characteristic of the readjustment now going on.

Ten years ago this week the bottom was touched in security prices during the 1921 depression and there was a substantial upturn in the autumn. Practically no warning of the change was discernible in the published accounts then, and there was instead a variety of pessimistic news developments.

While nobody is endeavoring to point a parallel between 1921 and 1931 as the major factors are different, still it is interesting to recall that the change for the better was imperceptible at the moment of lowest security values in August.

URGE DRY LAW CHANGE
AS AID TO FARMERS

Springfield, Ill.—(CP)—Modification of prohibition laws as a means to aiding American farmers was advocated by congressman William E. Hull of Peoria in a cablegram from Peoria today.

Congressman Hull had just completed a liquor survey of Europe. "Among other things," Representative Hull stated, "the return of light wines and beer would greatly benefit the hard hit field of farmers."

"Why not relieve them to the extent of selling 120,000,000 bushels of grain to the brewers. This can be done by increasing the half of one per cent alcohol in the present beer to three and two tenths per cent."

Congressman Hull said it was imperative that the Republican party take some definite action in the next national convention to meet demands for modification of the party leadership will be lost at the coming elections.

FOUR MISSING,

WEST VIRGINIASuspect Denies Knowledge

man Will Be Found

Clarksburg, W. Va.—(CP)—Asserting that the Chicago widow for whose disappearance he is charged with manslaughter is now in Denver, Colo., Cornelius O. Pierson, alias Harry F. Powers, 45, told Clarksburg police last night "She'll show up in Chicago."

Pierson was arrested yesterday at the request of Chief of Police Harold W. Johnson of Park Ridge, Chicago, who is investigating the disappearance of Mrs. Asta Buick Eicher, widow, and her three children.

Police said today they found bloodstains and clothing of a woman in a garage built at a village near here by Pierson.

The police also said there were letters written to the woman and photographs in the garage, located at Quiet Dell, a village located on the Buckhannon Pike.

Pierson built the garage a few months ago, the authorities said. Have Warrants

The officers still were at Quiet Dell this morning while Pierson was in the Clarksburg jail following his arrest yesterday. Park Ridge authorities have warrants charging him with manslaughter and kidnapping in connection with the disappearance of the woman, a widow, and her children. The officers did not disclose the evidence on which they based the charges.

The interior of the garage was splattered with blood, the authorities said. Preparations were made to dig up the earth around the building.

There were suitcases of women's and children's clothing in the garage. Police said they found letters to Pierson from women in various parts of the country.

When he was arrested, letters written by Pierson to a matrimonial agency in Detroit and to four women were found in his pocket. Pierson told police he had written to the women "for fun."

Gone Two Months
Mrs. Eicher and her children, Harry, 4; Greta, 14, and Anna, 12, disappeared mysteriously two months ago. Park Ridge police investigating the disappearance found letters indicating the woman had met Pierson through a matrimonial agency and that he lived in Clarksburg.

Clarksburg police found Pierson living here under the name of Harry F. Powers. He admitted he knew Mrs. Eicher and told the police she was in Denver, Colo., where he said she had gone with a friend.

The man is 45 years old and is married. He lived with his wife here. Pierson identified the clothing and other articles as the property of Mrs. Eicher and her children. He refused to make any statement concerning their presence in the building, but denied he was guilty of any wrongdoing.

When the articles first were found in the building, the man said he had hauled them there himself, Chief of Police C. O. Duckworth said. Later, Duckworth said, Pierson denied he had made such a statement and asserted a man named Rogers from Pittsburgh, who he described as a "partner," had hauled the clothing and other articles to the place.

James Pickens, former county sealer of weights and measures who lives near the garage, said he frequently had seen Pierson drive to the garage late at night and work inside in the dark.

SUSPECT REPUDIATES MURDER CONFESSION

Fort Morgan, Colo.—(CP)—John Schoplin, charged with the murder of Enid Marriott, Wiggins, Colo. school teacher, has repudiated his confession that he killed her and has made a new statement naming two married women of Wiggins-co. authorities said today. The names of the women were not made public.

The body of Mrs. Marriott was found in an irrigation ditch near here Jan. 19, 1931, two months after she disappeared.

In a statement after his arrest, Schoplin said he induced the teacher to enter his automobile and took her to the canal where he said he shot her and then threw the body in the water. He asserted she had been "gossiping about him."

His trial is set for early next month.

2nd Kidnap Victim Is Back Unhurt

New York—(CP)—Unkempt, Charles Rosenthal, youthful broker and heir to a large estate, appeared at a police station in the Bronx today and said he was kidnapped, blindfolded and held prisoner in a New York apartment for more than two weeks.

He said he was released today by his captors, who tossed him unceremoniously out of an automobile in the Bronx, then sped away.

During his absence his friend and attorney, Edward Nathan, announced he had received letters demanding $100,000 ransom. Traps were set for the kidnapers, but they failed. Efforts by relatives to communicate with the missing 24-year-old broker's captors through the "agony" columns of newspapers also were without result.

Rosenthal, who lives in Lawrenceville, N. Y., said that on Aug. 11 he took a young woman to a midtown restaurant for dinner, then entered a taxi with her, driving toward the Bronx. They were stopped by three dark men in another car, who overpowered the broker, blindfolded him and took him to a flat he believes is in Manhattan. He was not injured.

Detectors said Rosenthal's story indicated the young woman was used as a decoy.

During the entire period of his captivity, Rosenthal said, he was forced to wear glasses with pieces of paper pasted on the lenses. He was bound securely.

A sum of money was paid his kidnapers for his release, Rosenthal told police at Mineola, Long Island, where he was taken after telling his story in New York. The authorities, however, refused to divulge the amount.

Before releasing him, Rosenthal said, the kidnapers, who appeared to be foreigners, handed him a $10 bill. He hailed a cab, and drove to the police station.

The young man planned to hasten as soon as possible to see his mother, Mrs. Nellie Rosenthal, who was said to be suffering a nervous breakdown.

When the articles first were found in the building, the man said he had hauled them there himself, Chief of Police C. O. Duckworth said. Later, Duckworth said, Pierson denied he had made such a statement and asserted a man named Rogers from Pittsburgh, who he described as a "partner," had hauled the clothing and other articles to the place.

James Pickens, former county sealer of weights and measures who lives near the garage, said he frequently had seen Pierson drive to the garage late at night and work inside in the dark.

Fall Flower Show Opens
Early Saturday Afternoon

A miniature forest of evergreens, grass, plants and flowers showing common plant and flower diseases will form one of the outstanding educational displays at the fall flower show which opens at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the armory under the auspices of the flower and garden division of the chamber of commerce. The entomology division of the state department of agriculture and markets is in charge of the display.

Otto Richter of the entomology department will spend Saturday morning visiting Appleton gardeners to collect plant and flower diseases in this locality. He will explain the nature of his findings and advise flower growers how to avoid these common diseases. Insect destruction of plants will be one of the important subjects which he will discuss. Mr. Richter will answer inquiries about the care and various diseases of plants.

Displays Around Walls
Several beautiful garden displays have been placed around the walls of the armory this afternoon by commercial firms. The competitive flower exhibits will be received Saturday morning from 5:45 until 11 o'clock at the armory. The show will open at 2 o'clock after the address has taken place and will close Saturday night at 2 o'clock. The

HENDERSON IS NAMED TO TAKE
Program Suggested by Coalition Cabinet

London—(CP)—Ramsay MacDonald three times prime minister of Great Britain, today was ousted as leader of the Labor party and Arthur Henderson was elected his successor.

"Uncle Arthur," as he is known in the house, now will lead the opposition against the man whom he served as foreign secretary in the recent labor government. Only six of the 280 members of the labor parliament voted to retain Mr. MacDonald at today's meeting.

The others lined up solidly behind the alternative proposals which organized labor is advancing as substitutes for the program of the non-partisan national government. The heart of their scheme is adamant opposition to cuts in the unemployment dole.

Replacement of Mr. MacDonald as the party chief was feverish in the face of the bitter resentment by Labor to his organization of the national cabinet. His position in the government remains unchanged. Although he is without a mandate from the Labor party he still is the head of the non-partisan emergency regime formed to balance the budget.

Born in Glasgow 67 years ago, Mr. Henderson served an apprenticeship in an iron foundry at Newcastle. He was one of the first liberal-labor members of commons elected in 1903.

After several years as treasurer of the labor party he was appointed in 1911 to the influential position of secretary. As such he has been the prime director of operations whenever labor has gone into action in the country at large.

Keeps In Touch
Prime Minister MacDonald, "resting" at Loughborough from the strain of the past few weeks, stretched a figurative arm down from Scotland today to keep his finger on the pulse of British politics.

Early this morning he had his Downing street office telephone ringing derisively reports that he already had decided not to be a candidate for parliament in the next general election.

Meanwhile, despite repudiation of the cabinet by the Labor Parliamentary party and the influential Trades Union congress, he will follow the course charted for the emergency regime until the budget is balanced and the nation's tangled finances have been straightened out.

The Liberals and Conservatives, in party session, voted endorsement of 12 Saved When Plane Is Forced Down On Ocean

Gloucester, Mass.—(CP)—A pilot's skill and a radio operator's daring were credited today with saving the lives of 12 persons as a Pan-American Airways amphibian plane plunged into the sea off Gloucester in a heavy fog.

Edward Banwell of Auburn, Me., drowned unnoticed as the passengers were transferred from the plane to a rubber life boat.

The fishing schooner Nova Julia, entering the harbor, came upon the nine passengers and three members of the crew of the Halifax-Boston bound plane. They had been clinging to the small rubber raft for more than an hour.

W. L. Elmore of Miami, Fla., the pilot, brought the plane down to the surface of the water when fog set in. A wave struck one of the pontoons, crushing it, and within a few minutes the amphibian sank.

Elmore, cut on the jaw when he was thrown against the instrument board of the ship, aided the passengers to the wings of the plane and dived repeatedly into the water-filled cabin to get the rubber life raft. Alfred W. Eston of North Abington, Mass., radio operator on the plane, took up the task of locating the raft as Elmore became exhausted.

Once launched, the raft was steadied by the crew of the plane while the passengers were led aboard. During the transfer of passengers Banwell was lost overboard.

With darkness approaching, the survivors were about to give up hope when the Nova Julia edged through the fog. Captain Leo Savanelli was lost overboard.

U. S. RAIDS FOUR STILLS AT RACINE

See Move as Effort to Check
Gang War Outbreaks
There

Racine—(CP)—Federal prohibition officers from Milwaukee raided four stills and a liquor warehouse on Racine's north side last night and arrested two men.

Those arrested were Leonard Sterenza and Paul Dantamo. The agents said three 500-gallon alcohol cookers were in operation and the fourth ready to be started. The warehouse, containing stores of liquor ready for shipment, was near the Rainbow Gardens roadhouse, off highway 15.

The raids were viewed by local authorities as the first of a series of moves on the part of the federal officers in a counter offensive against bootleg warfare in Racine-co.

The warfare was claimed by police for the slaying Saturday of John Messina, 25, Milwaukee, who met a gangster's death in a spray of machine gun and revolver bullets as he sat drinking beer in a restaurant here.

Yesterday, Allen Robinson, an admitted bootlegger, told police he was marked for death the night of the Messina slaying and asked police protection in view of several telephone threats he said he received warning him to cease activities and leave the country.

Police Lieut. Grover Lutter said Robinson told of a growing bootlegging, dominated by Al Capone, Chicago gang lord, spreading through the country. He refused, however, Lutter said, to reveal the names of several men he termed Capone's agents in southern Wisconsin.

Robinson said Racine-co was one of the largest alcohol centers in the midwest and that products from here were shipped as far north as Green Bay, and south into Illinois, and west into Iowa.

FAIL TO IDENTIFY MAN
AS MURDER SUSPECT

Kenosha—(CP)—District Attorney Morris Barnett today said Kenosha authorities were practically convinced a man arrested in Indianapolis, Ind., as a suspect in the slaying of Mrs. Ann Patterson, Chicago, was not Joe Miller, alias Lester (Blackie) Faust, sought for the crime, and the man probably would be released tomorrow.

Two resort proprietors, Anthony Federle, Loon Lake, and John Spera, who knew Faust, today viewed the prisoner here and said he was not Faust. Mrs. Alma Ledbetter, 24, and N. E. Neizer, 31, both of Chicago, said they had never met Faust.

Kenosha police said fingerprints of Faust did not check with fingerprints of the man arrested in Indianapolis. The man claims to be John Williams, 22.

Mrs. Patterson died, Mrs. Ledbetter said, while she was in the water with Faust. Doctors who examined her body said she had been strangled criminally and beaten to death.

GOOD ADVANCES ARE MADE BY STOCKS

New York—(CP)—The stock market pushed up rather briskly today, as an improved tone in bonds, and news of the proposed Franco-American private banking loan to the British treasury were favorably interpreted in Wall Street.

Advances of $2 to $5 a share were recorded by such stocks as U. S. Steel, American Telephone, American Can, Consolidated Gas, Westinghouse Electric, Southern Pacific, American Tobacco B. Allied Chemical and J. I. Case.

SIXTH MAN DIES

ESCAPE ATTEMPT

Governor Says State Should Provide Capital Punishment in Cases Like This

Marquette, Mich.—(CP)—A trusty who helped frustrate an attempt at escape by four long term convicts in Michigan branch prison here yesterday, became the sixth fatality of the abortive break for liberty last night.

The trusty, Frank Oilschlager, serving a life term for killing a Detroit policeman, had worked his way, by good behavior, to the position of head nurse in the prison hospital. It was there he was shot when he grappled with Andrew Germano, after Germano, Leo Duver and Charles Rossbury had begun their break by killing Dr. W. A. Hornbogen, acting prison physician, while answering sick call.

The three convicts fled across the prison yard, after wounding another trusty and a guard, then were cornered in a second floor dormitory. There they shot two guards, forcing one of them, George Arenz, to seek a nurse's aid.

When the note was answered by a barrage of tear gas bombs, the three convicts used the guns to kill themselves.

Looked in a distant cell, Frank Homer, another long term prisoner and a pal of Germano, fired futilely at a wall guard, then turned the gun upon himself.

Executed—(CP)—Regret that the laws of Michigan do not provide capital punishment for criminals of the type who attempted to escape from Marquette prison was expressed by Governor Wilbur M. Brucker in an address at the Upper Peninsula State fair here yesterday.

"I wish there was something more we could give them," Governor Brucker said, declaring it was his policy never to pardon a life term prisoner.

The governor watched reports of the prison break closely and was obviously relieved when the disturbance was quickly ended. He previously expressed confidence officials of the prison would be able to handle the situation.

WOMAN IS LEADING

Jefferson City, Mo.—(CP)—Mrs. Gladys O'Donnell, Lone Beach, Cal., led the Santa Monica-Cleveland air derby flyers into the Jefferson City airport today, crossing the finish line at 10:30:40 a. m. C. S. T.

W. F. Musgrave, Jr., San Francisco, plucking a Cessna, led the men's division, landing 55 minutes ahead of Mrs. O'Donnell.

Barbelle—(CP)—A lot of "mere women" led a place today at the national air derby. But the men pilots were on a long up.

Phoebe Orin, diminutive "old woman" in the flying game, from Memphis, clung to first place with an official count of 195:17 points, but has less than two points behind was Len Brown, of Glendale, Calif., with 193:25. He had gained 6:51 points while Mrs. Orin gained but 4:14.

Third was D. C. Warren, San Francisco, with 192:59. He displaced Edwin Cessna, who held that position when the ships left Amarillo yesterday morning. Cessna, from Wichita, Kas., had a score of 190:05 today, and was in sixth place.

The others ahead of him were Charles Goldtrap, Phoenix, Ariz., with 191:38, and Edith Foltz, Portland, with 190:32.

Investigators

Washington—(CP)—Miss Ada L. Burroughs, of Richmond, treasurer of the Anti-Smith Democratic organization headed by Bishop James Cannon, Jr., in 1928, today declined for a second time to answer questions before the senate campaign funds committee.

As she went on the stand Miss Burroughs said in a mild voice that she had a statement to read. She asked photographers not to take her picture and that was ordered by Chairman Nye.

In her prepared statement, Miss Burroughs said "none of the books, accounts, checks, or other documents, called for by the committee's subpoena are now in my possession."

It was Miss Burroughs to whom Bishop Cannon in a London statement last night said he had turned over some of the funds withdrawn by him from political accounts in several banks in 1928.

"I decline to answer," Miss Burroughs said when Nye called her attention to the recent order of the District of Columbia supreme court refusing to grant Bishop Cannon a writ of prohibition against the committee continuing its inquiry into his political activities.

Senator Nye reminded Miss Burroughs that "you have given some testimony in your prepared statement."

Will Not Talk

Senator Wagner, Democrat, New York, then asked her who were the other officers of the Anti-Smith organization.

"I decline to give any testimony," she replied.

"Is that a secret?" asked Wagner. There was no answer.

Wagner asked other questions and finally got the witness to say she was a member of the Methodist church.

"You don't want to answer any questions dealing with Bishop Cannon's handling of money; then I would like to ask you if you were treasurer of the Anti-Smith committee," Wagner pursued.

"I decline to testify," she replied.

Reads Statement

The statement of Miss Burroughs read:

"To the chairman and members of the select committee on campaign expenditures, United States senate:

"Gentlemen:

"Referring to subpoena for my appearance today to testify before this committee under the terms of senate resolution 493, I beg, with all due respect, to refer the committee to a protest heretofore filed by me with this committee on May 7, 1931, and I hereby lodge said protest for the purpose of this hearing."

"However, in further deference to the committee and the subpoena, I beg to state that none of the books, accounts, checks, or other documents, called for by the committee's subpoena are now in my possession."

"At the books, accounts, records, etc., which were in my possession as treasurer of the headquarters committee Anti-Smith Democrats, were retained in my possession for its statutory period of two years from the time of the receipt of all moneys by said committee, and were thereafter turned over and delivered to James Cannon, Jr., and I have no knowledge as to their present whereabouts."

"For the further information of the committee, I beg to state that I never at any time had any connection with a committee designated in the committee's subpoena as 'committee on temperance and tolerance.'"

Has No Authority
"Believing, as stated in my protest of May 7, 1931, that this committee is without authority or jurisdiction to investigate or inquire into any of the matters referred to in said subpoena of Aug. 27, 1931, to me, or any matters relating to the private transactions of James Cannon, Jr., or my connections therewith, and being so legally advised, I again respectfully decline to give any testimony in this investigation."

The committee at the outset today attempted to disprove contentions by Bishop Cannon that the Anti-Smith Democratic committee he headed in 1928 in Virginia was only a statewide organization and therefore not under jurisdiction of the senate.

Union Is Blamed For Bombing Of Movie Theatres In Chicago

SWANSON ASKS ARREST OF 3 EX-OPERATORS

Officials to Ask Forfeit of Bonds Posted by Labor Group Heads

Chicago — (AP) — Three theatres, whose owners recently substituted eastern motion picture operators for those of the local union, were bombed shortly after midnight today.

One of the bombs exploded at the rear of the Ridge theatre, and caused slight injuries to two small children who were thrown from their beds in a 15-apartment building across the alley. The manager of the theatre, Harold L. Lasker, estimated the damage at $2,000 saying that the damage to the machine near the stage had been damaged.

At the second theatre, the Olympia, on the south side, more than a dozen windows were broken in the adjacent University of Chicago settlement house, shattering sleeping occupants with shattered glass. This theatre was owned by Earl E. Sarnstein, president of the Independent Theatre Owners Association, who was directing negotiations with the local motion picture operators union.

The third house was the Ray theatre, where damage to the sound equipment on the stage and to the interior of the auditorium was estimated at $2,000 by the proprietor.

Order Arrests
Immediately after the explosions, Assistant State's Attorney John Swanson opened an investigation, ordering the arrests of three former operators.

Assistant State's Attorney Charles A. Fellows blamed the local motion picture operators' union for the affair. He said he would appear before Chief Justice John P. McGorty with a petition asking that the bonds of Maloy and other of the officers, now under indictment on charges of conspiracy to obtain money under false pretenses and conspiracy to do illegal acts injurious to public trade, be forfeited. He said the men had left the jurisdiction of the court and therefore were in contempt.

In a controversy between union operators and independent theatre owners the latter have failed to convince the union that it should abandon its demand that two operators, instead of one, be employed at each of the small houses. The owners, contending that the wage paid the second man represented the difference between their being able to operate at a profit or to suffer a loss, have employed men brought from eastern cities or non-union local operators. While the eastern men belonged to a union, it is not associated with the local organization.

The operators from eastern cities, used by the independent owners, were gathered in a hotel at the time of the bombings. Detectives were sent to the hotel to accompany them to their lodgings.

Another Explosion
St. Louis — (AP) — Explosion of a bomb, apparently thrown from a motor car, rocked the downtown district of St. Louis early today, shattering about 100 windows in the 100 block on N. Seventh-st. and severely injured a pedestrian, William Bommarito.

The bomb was thrown in front of a cigar store and handbook, tearing a hole in the sidewalk a foot in diameter. Police said a license in the shop identified the owner as Henry Kiegan.

Bommarito, 30, a clerk, was walking nearby when the explosion occurred. He was badly injured by flying glass.

The handbook is located in the Title Guaranty building, which adjoins the Buder building, in which the St. Louis Times is published. Windows were shattered as high as the sixth floor.

The blast was heard for several miles and attracted hundreds of spectators. Police had great difficulty at first in keeping the crowd out of danger of falling glass. Several panes in the American hotel, a block away, were shattered. Guests in several downtown hotels were awakened.

Police said the damage was about $3,500.

MILWAUKEE HIT BY ELECTRICAL STORM

Milwaukee — (AP) — Lightning and strong northwest wind, accompanying a heavy rain, caused considerable damage in Milwaukee and vicinity last night.

A barn on the farm of Vance Bunavitz, town of Brookfield, was struck by lightning and destroyed. At least two houses in the city were struck by bolts, and a woman and her 19-year-old daughter were burned when their automobile contacted live wires torn down by lightning.

The wind tossed about seven naval reserve ships anchored inside the breakwater and small craft warnings were issued. Temporary buildings and tents set up in state fair park for the 1931 exposition, were blown down.

GIVES RULING ON WAGE AND HOURS LAW

Madison — (AP) — The state industrial commission was informed today by the attorney general's department that the prevailing wages and hours required in state highway construction contracts is not to be based upon hours in highway work alone.

Under a law enacted by the last legislature, the industrial commission must determine the prevailing wages and hours in each county where highway work is to be done by the state. Such determination will fix wages and hours in highway contracts.

Deputy Attorney General Fred M. Wylie, who made the ruling, expressed the opinion that the industrial commission may consider the wages and hours of all types of common labor in making its determination.

ROOSEVELT URGES INCOME TAX BOOST

Governor Outlines Program for Unemployment Relief in Speech

Albany, N. Y. — (AP) — A 50 per cent increase in the state personal income tax was recommended to the New York legislature by Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt today as part of his program for unemployment relief.

Other recommendations included: Creation of a temporary emergency relief administration of three members appointed by the governor, and an appropriation of $20,000,000 to be expended under the supervision of the commission, principally to employ persons on public work during the winter months.

Authorizing cities and counties, for the period of one year, to issue three year bonds to provide relief for unemployment by means of public works.

Providing for a five day week in all contracts for state or municipal public works, except supervisory labor.

Providing that out of the $20,000,000 raised for relief work $549,900 be used for the payment of soldiers' bonuses.

Bills to carry out the recommendations for introduction in both houses of the legislature.

The governor read his message at a joint session of the legislature.

Governor Roosevelt and Tammany Hall appeared today to be farther apart than ever in relation to the bill.

Believe was inevitable because of the governor's insistence in calling a special session of the legislature to increase the powers of the Hoofstadter committee investigating New York City.

Immediately after passing a bill empowering the committee to grant immunity to witnesses, the Republican-controlled legislature was given a surprise yesterday in a message from the governor urging investigation of charges of corruption in upstate communities, which are Republican controlled.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK SET FOR OCT. 4

Washington — (AP) — President Hoover today proclaimed the week of Oct. 4 as fire prevention week and solicited "the assistance of each citizen to help lessen the loss, needless waste, and suffering from fires largely preventable."

The president said fires in the United States last year caused a direct property loss estimated at nearly $500,000,000, an increase of $40,000,000 over 1929 and that deaths and injuries resulting from fires exceeded 35,000 in 1929.

General Weather

Showers and thunderstorms occurred generally over the entire upper and middle Mississippi Valley and over the lake region and eastern states. The rainfall was quite heavy over a narrow belt extending from northern Iowa eastward over southern Wisconsin and northern Illinois. At Charles City, Ia., a fall of 2.5 inches was recorded, while Dubuque, Ia., had 1.24 inches, and Chicago 1.44 inches. Unsettled, rainy weather still prevails over the Great Lakes, Ohio Valley and south central Canada, the center of the storm being over the latter region. High winds and a sharp drop in temperature are occurring in the rear of the storm and cooler weather is expected in this section, with mostly fair tonight and Saturday.

THOUSANDS DIE DAILY IN FLOOD AREAS OF CHINA

Estimate Between 2,000,000 and 4,000,000 Will Perish by End of Year

Hankow, China — (AP) — Boat tour of the native section of Hankow, covered by flood waters of the Yangtze river, today disclosed vast areas of unbroken water where rickety buildings stood last week.

Hundreds of roof dwellers clinging precariously to their insecure perches, becoming daily more emaciated and miserable. The Yangtze river current, which cleanses the foreign quarters of the city, does not reach the native city, where the green stagnant water emits an almost unbearable stench.

The Associated Press correspondent visited a building whose upper floors housed at least 5,000 refugees. It was almost impossible to walk without treading upon bodies or limbs. The bottom floor of the building is submerged several feet.

Conditions are extremely serious. Every other person appeared to be gravely ill. From every direction came moans of the aged and cries of children.

The Wuhan area, comprising the cities of Hankow, Hanyang and Wuchang, with a total population of about 1,500,000 contains only a small percentage of the flood victims. The Chinese military here is predicting that between 2,000,000 and 4,000,000 Chinese probably will die before the year's end.

The Wuhan area is the center of the flood district, which extends for vast distances in every direction, covering many thousands of square miles of what once was the fertile Yangtze valley.

Embankment Down

Shanghai — (AP) — Kuo Min. Chinese News agency tonight said eight miles of embankment along the Grand canal at Kaoyu, northern Kiangsu province had collapsed, inundating several hundred square miles of territory and adding to the toll of death and damage by floods in the Yangtze valley.

The Grand Canal runs from Tientsin, in North China, to Hoochow, near the mouth of the Yangtze, a distance of 1,000 miles.

ENDEAVOR UNION TO CONVENE HERE SOON

Green Bay District to Hold Annual Convention Sept. 25, 26

Appleton has been selected as the place for the annual convention of Green Bay district of the Wisconsin Christian Endeavor union, to be held Friday and Saturday, Sept. 25 and 26. A leaders' conference will be held on Sunday, Sept. 27.

Memorial Presbyterian church will be headquarters for the gathering, and the Christian Endeavor societies of First, Second and Emmanuel Evangelical churches will cooperate in the arrangements.

Registration of delegates will take place Friday afternoon, followed by a general meeting and covenant service in the evening. About 100 young persons are expected. Sessions Saturday morning will be largely conferences for workers. A luncheon will be held at noon, when business will be transacted and officers elected.

Part of Saturday afternoon will be devoted to talks by leaders and the remainder to recreation. The convention banquet will be held in the evening, followed by a big gathering for Endeavorers and townspeople generally at which a prominent speaker will be present whose choice will be announced later.

Barrie Milwaukee, field secretary, will be here for the convention and Cecil Nickel, Marinette, district president, will preside.

Tentative plans were made at a meeting with Mr. Earle Tuesday evening. Representatives of each society will meet at 7:30 next Monday evening, at which time a local chairman and committees will be selected.

SIGN CONTRACT FOR 2ND UNIT OF HIGHWAY

Madison — (AP) — The construction of a second unit of a superhighway between Milwaukee and Chicago was approved by Gov. Philip LaFollette today when a contract was awarded to J. R. Griffith, Racine.

The contract calls for the construction of two 20-foot parallel lanes of concrete highway for a distance of 5.1 miles at a cost of $299,576. The lanes will be separated by a 50-foot parkway.

At present the superhighway extends from Rawson-ave to the city limits of Milwaukee. The second unit will project the highway to the county line. Each of the lanes are used for one-way traffic.

THREE SENTENCED FOR CHICKEN THEFTS

Lancaster — (AP) — Roy and Fred Mindham, brothers, and Muel Redman, all of Millville, were under a one to two years sentence today to the state reformatory for stealing chickens. Judge S. E. Smalley imposed sentence after the defendants entered pleas of guilty.

Building Permits

Two building permits were issued Thursday by John N. Welland, building inspector. They were granted to Irwin S. Kimball, 117 N. Mason-st, addition to garage for residence purposes, cost $350; and L. M. Mills, 1427 N. Clark-st, woodshed, cost $150.

HORSE KNOCKS BOY DOWN TO GET HIS CANDY; SUIT STARTS

Milwaukee — (AP) — The sweet tooth of Jeanne, a horse owned by the Omar Baking company, has prompted filing of a $2,500 damage action in circuit court. The complaint alleges five-year-old Brazio Caravello was knocked down when the horse attempted to "swipe" an all-day sucker from the boy.

G. O. P. SPEAKER HITS DEMOCRATS

Publicity Director Welcomes Battle of Tariff and Depression

Stedalia, Mo. — (AP) — James L. West, publicity director for the Republican National committee, said in an address before the Missouri Republican Editorial association here today that the Republican party would welcome as issues in 1932 "those subjects on which the Democratic high command has been directing its fire—the tariff and depression."

West said the Democrats hope to "ride into power upon the wave of discontent they have sought to create with their unwarranted assaults on the administration."

"When the minority party was deliberately delaying enactment of the Hawley-Smoot act in the senate and thus contributing to business uncertainty unemployment and distress, we heard much of the claim that the new tariff would add a billion dollars a year to the cost of living in this country. You haven't heard that canard in late months. The Democrats have abandoned it in the face of falling prices just as they have had to do in the case of similar charges in connection with the Republican protective tariff."

We have inaugurated a campaign to force the Democrats to put up or shut up. Largely they have shut up."

The world-wide depression in not nearly as bad as in European countries, West said, and Americans should "give thanks that they were fortunate enough to live in the United States."

FIRE FIGHTERS DOUBLE EFFORTS AS 4 MORE DIE

Quintet Trapped in Circle of Flame; Fate of Fifth Is Unknown

Boise, Idaho — (AP) — The death of four firefighters in the Lewis and Clark National forest caused volunteers and national guardsmen to redouble efforts today to check the flames which have swept thousands of acres in the northwest.

The toll of lives this season mounted to 12 with the trapping of four of a party of five men by a circle of fire in the Montana preserve. The fate of the fifth man was not determined.

Forest officials said the party was composed of Charles Allen, Pittsburgh, Pa., and Herbert Novotny, Harry Gunnerson, Ted Bieren and Frank Williams, all of Great Falls, Mont. The bodies will be taken today to Choteau, Mont., 35 miles away, where definite identification is expected.

Fire fighters in central Idaho were concentrating against flames which had advanced to within 10 miles of the town of Lowman. National guardsmen were rushed to the scene yesterday. Plans were made to trench and clear away timber six miles ahead of the fire.

Military officers patrolled the 25 mile front searching for men they believe have set new fires.

John Foshee, a transient, was arrested on suspicion of having set a fire behind the main wall and a dozen "undesirables" were ordered out of the woods.

STORM CAUSES DAMAGE IN MADISON REGION

Madison — (AP) — Followed by a heavy rain, a wind and electrical storm hit Madison last night, breaking electric wires and trees in various parts of the city.

The rain was believed beneficial to new seedlings of alfalfa and clover in addition to corn, potatoes, tobacco and other late crops grown in the Madison area.

ONE KILLED, ONE HURT

Fond du Lac — (AP) — Fred Sommerfeld, a welder, was killed and Clifford McCoy was seriously injured in an automobile collision here late yesterday. The machine driven by Sommerfeld collided with that driven by J. E. McNeany, a merchant, at a street intersection.

Screen Stars Have Many Ways Of Learning Lines

BY JESSIE HENDERSON

Hollywood — (CFA) — Some of them sleep on the manuscript and some of them never speak a line aloud until they're on the set, and nearly every one of them has a different method for learning the dialogue which will eventually be heard in the talkies.

Most of the screen stars are superstitious about their methods and wouldn't dare try something different.

Clive Brook, for instance, learns his lines at home. The members of his family read the other roles while he rehearses his own. "It's more difficult than learning dialogue for the stage," said Brook today, "because the player is never sure of the action accompanying the words until he's in the studio ready to start the picture."

Marjorie Rameau practically learns her lines on the set. She has to know what movements go with the words before she can memorize them, but her long stage experience enables her to learn the dialogue with surprising speed.

Peggy Shannon studies quietly at home, like a student with her book. She rehearses the words and intonation silently. She won't speak the lines aloud until she is on the set for the first time.

Sleeps On Manuscript

John Wray, recently recruited from the stage, sleeps on the manuscript the first night it is in his possession. He reads the script in bed, closes his eyes, and visualizes the scenes down to the smallest detail. Then he puts the manuscript under his pillow and goes to sleep.

Willard Robertson rehearses at home, but he must get first of all the "feel" of the scene. If it is a scene to be played standing up, he stands while rehearsing. If he is supposed to be in a chair, he is seated. And if in the scene he is ill, he lies down on the floor. A couch, he explained, is too comfortable; he not only would be slow to feel sufficiently sick, but he'd drowse off.

Ina Claire also studies her roles at home. She walks miles up and down the floor while doing so.

WOODCOCK IS CRITICIZED FOR BAN ON WOMEN

Business and Professional Women Claim Ruling Is Discriminatory

Baltimore—(P)—Answering Prohibition Director Woodcock's defense of his ban on the employment of women as informers, the Business and Professional Women's Council of Maryland asserted in a letter made public today that if prohibition enforcement "is not fit for women it is not fit for men."

The organization protested against the order earlier this week as discriminatory. A reply from Colonel Woodcock said he believed the purpose of his order had been misunderstood.

The new protest against the ban was drafted at a meeting of the executive council last night.

"Had you prohibited the employment of minors in the enforcement of prohibition, you would have our heartiest approval and commendation," said the letter. "With your ruling against women, as such, we can not agree."

"We do agree that it is an unsavory business. But, if it is not fit for women, it is not fit for men," said the letter. "We are not saying nothing of the federal government. Women are not exempt from sharing the cost. There is at this time as much unemployment among women as among men, as well as men, are often forced to great lengths to keep body and soul together."

"If there are women who wish to enter such employment, they alone are the judges of any moral effect upon themselves, and it is neither fair nor just that they should come face to face with a government ruling prohibiting their employment in spite of the fact that their services are necessary if the law is to be impartially enforced against all classes of violators."

The women's council denied it had originally protested under "any misapprehension of the facts."

REPORT CHICAGO
BUSINESS IS DOWN

Chicago—(P)—The federal report of Chicago monthly business conditions report, to be issued next Monday, will say:

"The number of automobiles sold at wholesale and retail by reporting distributors and dealers in the midwest declined slightly further in July from June, although a considerable number of firms had sales totaling equal to or larger than the June volume. The decrease of only 3 per cent from last July in the number of cars sold at wholesale compared with a decline of 24 per cent in their value; this disparity is principally due to lower prices prevailing this year and to smaller sales of higher priced cars. In the year-to-year comparison, many distributors and dealers showed larger sales this July."

"July bookings of seventh district furniture manufacturers reporting to this bank were more than one-third under the June volume, which month was for short of expectations arising from the advance showing of new furniture, so that the index of orders booked during the current month touched a new low point."

United Artists and Fox settle argument

San Francisco—(P)—Lou Andger, representative of Joseph M. Schenck, president of the United Artists Theatre chain, said last night that the settlement of the dispute between United Artists and the Fox Film corporation had been settled.

The settlement means Fox will show United Artists pictures in cities where there are no United Artists theatres, it was understood. Fox executives at Los Angeles, however, declined to comment.

When the break came last November, Schenck, Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, Charles Chaplin, and other actors signed a statement charging the Fox theatre chain with a monopoly "organized to stifle our individual endeavor and that of all other artists and producers."

Bottle exchange is milk dealers' plan

All milk dealers in the city will meet at 7:30 Friday evening at city hall to discuss the opening of a bottle exchange.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

THE PENALTY DOUBLE

OPPOSING the five game bids there stands the Penalty Double—a powerful inhibitory tool in a skillful hand. "Doubling Valuation" and the ability to maneuver for penalty swings accounts for much of the high scores made by leading players. Doubles must not be made too soon or too late and above all, they must be reasonably safe.

The Penalty Double shows a type of hand better suited to play against the opponents (for a penalty score) and, at the same time, it frequently indicates a hand that is unsuited for a score at partner's bid. Partner should therefore infer that Doubler prefers "to be left in" unless certain unknown abnormalities of his own hand warrant a Takeout.

It is a Penalty Double whenever:

(a) Partner of Doubler had already bid; or if partner had not bid, the contract doubled is two trump or three or more in a suit.

The Culbertson Rule of Eight makes it possible to give for the first time specific rules for Penalty Doubles:

To Double an Adverse Notrump Bid: Count the honor-tricks and long-suit-tricks in hand and any honor-tricks shown by partner. An important factor is the re-entries necessary to establish and win tricks in long suit (or suits).

To Double an Adverse Trump Bid: Add the honor-tricks (and the trump-tricks, if any, in adverse suit) held in own hand to the minimum number of honor-tricks shown by partner's bid. Subtract the total from thirteen and the balance will give the trick-taking limit of opponent's contract. If the total trick count of combined hands shows at least the probability of a two-trick set, you have a sound Double, provided the penalty points will be equivalent to your possible trick-score. When you can score a game, do not accept a two-trick set unless the opponents are vulnerable.

As a rule, do not double adverse trump bids unless holding at least 1 trump trick. Furthermore, in doubling trump bids, keep close account of the fact that every second leads of honors are very apt to be ruffed due to unbalanced distributions.

PROCEDURE OF DOUBLER'S PARTNER (No Intervening Bid)

Like any other bid, the Penalty Double conveys specific information and, in turn, is predicated to a certain extent upon the information gathered from partner. It must be remembered:

First: That Doubler has included in his estimate a certain number of taking-tricks (ranging from 1 to 2) inferred from partner's bid or pass.

Second: That the Doubler, in his valuation, naturally assumed a more or less normal distribution of suits.

Partner Should Leave in the Penalty Double: When his hand justifies the above assumptions.

Partner Should Takeout the Penalty Double: When his hand contains certain important elements that are presumably unknown to Doubler, such as:

a. Very unbalanced (freakish) distribution.

b. When it is evident that partner's hand is worthless (a blank) against opponent's bid—providing, however, that it contains some elements of support for Doubler's previous bid.

c. When partner, in bidding, has misled Doubler as to the nature of his hand.

Today's Pointer

Why 2-1/2 Honor-Tricks for Opening One-Bids?

In the Forcing System all Opening one-bids require at least 2-1/2 honor-tricks. The average share of honors for each player is 2 honor-tricks plus a Knave. If we add another Queen to the Knave we have an equivalent of 2-1/2 honor-tricks for a Queen and Knave of different suits. Hence 2-1/2 honor-tricks—meaning a hand which in honors is a Queen higher than the average—the scientifically determined minimum for all Opening one-bids.

LEGION POSTS PLAN
CAR TO CONVENTION

Appleton, Neenah and Menasha Vets Will Go to Detroit Sept. 19

Representatives of the Soo Line railroad and Appleton, Neenah and Menasha legion posts met here last night to make plans for a special coach to convey the veterans to the national convention of the American Legion at Detroit, Sept. 19 to 24.

Appleton post will send eight representatives, Neenah and Menasha have indicated 39 persons will go from there, and reservations are open for at least 170 more persons.

If three is an overbid, the extras will be placed in one of the Fond du Lac cars.

The tourist sleeper to the convention will leave Neenah at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Sept. 19, and arrive in Chicago at 9:45 in the evening. It will leave Chicago at 11 o'clock and arrive in Detroit at 7:30 Sunday morning at the old Michigan Central depot, three blocks from the center of Detroit. The car also will be a hotel for the legionnaires during their stay.

Returning, the special will leave Detroit at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon and arrive at Neenah at 6 o'clock Friday morning. An especially low rate has been secured for the vets if a maximum of 45 take the trip. Appleton legionnaires can make reservations with A. B. Scheurle, Menasha legionnaires with R. T. Hill, and Neenah veterans with Dan Nelson.

LAST OF TOURISTS TO BE HOME SATURDAY

About 35 country and Wisconsin residents who left Appleton on the A. G. Meating tour to Europe, will return to Appleton Saturday morning. They visited eight foreign countries.

Word received here Thursday from conductors of the tour said the party would enter Wisconsin via Pembine and arrive in Appleton over the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railway Saturday morning.

REPORT FRENCH,
U. S. BANKERS TO ASSIST ENGLAND

Believe Huge Loan Will Be Made by Private Financial Interests

New York—(P)—Negotiations for a Franco-American credit to Great Britain were described today as having made substantial progress. Estimates of the amount by financial writers ranged from $100,000,000 to $500,000,000.

Information came from J. P. Morgan and Company that discussions had been held both here and in Paris, and that French and American banking interests would participate equally in a credit to the new national emergency government.

Presumptions of experts were that the credit would be used by the bank of England to protect sterling exchange if necessary, but the possibility was recognized that in view of recent improvement in sterling the British government might decide it needed no credit.

The credit would be for one year. British treasury bills in proportion to amounts borrowed would be issued to bankers participating in the credit. These bills having 60 or 90 days to run, could be sold at a discount, similar to the treasury bills used in the United States financing. As the bills mature new bills could be issued, keeping the credit revolving.

French bankers are expected to offer some of the British treasury bills to the public, while American banks will retain them for their own operations.

Plans of the new British government for economy were stressed in published comment on the readiness with which American bankers answered inquiries of the British government as to whether a credit would be available.

START WORK THIS FALL ON NEW STATE BUILDING

Madison—(P)—Interior work on the new state office building is expected to begin this fall. C. A. Halbert, state engineer, said. Completion of the building may be realized sooner than expected, Mr. Halbert said.

HUNT TWO HIJACKERS
FOLLOWING SHOOTING

Stevens Point—(P)—Seriously weakened by a bullet wound in his lung, Russell Mathison, 21, St. Charles, Minn., was in a hospital here today while authorities waited to question him further about an attempted hijacking of a truckload of liquor.

The Portage co. sheriff had taken charge of 499 gallons of alcohol and the truck which Mathison said was taken from him by two men, one of whom shot him in the back when he attempted to escape.

Mathison said he had been hired to drive the truck from Green Bay, Wis., to Winona, Minn., and did not know the contents. While attempting to fix a tire, he said, he was overtaken by two men who forced him to drive the truck into a nearby farm and accompany them in their automobile.

When the hijackers' car went into a ditch, Mathison said, he ran and was wounded.

U. S. Listens In On Reception For Lindbergh And Wife In Tokyo

RADIO CARRIES ENTIRE PROGRAM ACROSS OCEAN

Colonel Expresses Confidence in Future of Aviation and Radio

New York (AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh has great confidence in the future of aviation and radio, he told an eastern world today.

He spoke from Tokyo, in response to an address of welcome at a reception given by three members of the Japanese cabinet after the conclusion of the flight of him and his wife from New York City. The program was broadcasted throughout the United States by two networks.

Although there were a number of interruptions due to atmospheric and other disturbances during the 40 minutes the program was on the air, the voice of Lindbergh came through clearly most of the time.

In saying he had the greatest confidence in the future of aviation and radio, Col. Lindbergh declared that distances of today probably will become insignificant in the future.

He paid tribute to the Japanese people and thanked them for the cooperation given his wife and himself.

The program was opened with a 15-minute period of music by Japanese players who gave a melody of American songs, including "My Old Kentucky Home" and "Dixie."

Officials at Dinner

The dinner to Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh by Japanese army and naval officials in honor of their visit to Tokyo was broadcast at 7:30 a. m. (E. S. T.) today by the National Broadcasting company in an international hookup with the Japanese National Broadcasting company.

The Japanese address of welcome was made by Hatajiri Kozuma, minister of communications and translated in English by L. Komatsu, San Francisco graduate and former San Francisco business man. His translation followed.

"We are gathered here to extend our congratulations to Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh on their 7,000 mile flight from New York to Tokyo. Please accept our invitation. We want to express our appreciation to you and America."

Lauds Colonel

He lauded the colonel as a great fighter, one who never flinched in the face of a great danger, who started on his flight. He said the flight would create good will.

Responding, Col. Lindbergh said: "We have come to Japan for an opportunity of meeting your people and learning a little more of the country which in our school days was known to us as a distant land. We are on the other side of the world. When we were children we thought of Japan as a land filled with people, who were as different from us as though they lived on another planet."

"Your scientific men have added to our common knowledge and international affairs have claimed a mutual interest of both our people."

"With the advance of radio and aircraft, the mystery of distance can no longer exist. We are interested in many of the same things and confronted by similar problems."

Express Confidence

"I do not know what effect aircraft will eventually have on the world, but I have great confidence in its future. You must not, however, expect too much in one generation."

"We have already experienced the hospitality of your people. Your cities and villages have shown us every consideration. The true character of Japan was most impressively shown when we landed in the fog in the heart of your country. We were unknown, and spoke in a strange language. Your people came out in the rain to assist us, and took us to their village for a dinner of rice and fish."

TEACHER INSTITUTE WILL CLOSE TODAY

The last sessions of the county rural and grade school teachers' institute at the court house were held this afternoon. The institute opened Thursday morning with about 150 teachers attending. County rural and grade schools open Monday.

A. G. Meating, county superintendent of schools, Gus E. Sell, county agent and Miss Marie Klein, county nurse, were among the speakers at the two day session. School work and programs were discussed.

VACATION PERIOD ALMOST OVER FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN

Number of Parochial Schools Resume Class Work Next Week

Vacation days are nearly over for more than 5,000 Appleton school children and they have begun to count the days when they will begin trudging toward the old schoolhouse with books tucked under their arms and pencils in their pockets.

Sacred Heart school will be the first to open its doors, resuming class work next Monday morning. Registration will be held on the first day, with several re-examinations for special students. St. Joseph parochial school will begin work Tuesday morning. The opening date for St. Mary parochial school has not been definitely set. St. Theresa school will begin the same date as Appleton public schools, Tuesday, Sept. 8.

Zion parish, St. Matthew Evangelical Lutheran and St. Paul Lutheran schools also will start on the second Tuesday in September.

Several new teachers are on the parochial staffs this year. There are four new teachers at St. Joseph, one at Sacred Heart and St. Mary, four at St. Theresa, one at Zion parish, two at St. Paul Lutheran schools. Armin Albrecht will resume his work as principal and teacher at St. Matthew Evangelical school.

The four teachers at Zion parish school this year are Miss Agnes Truckenbrod, in charge of the first classroom; Miss Frances Theimer, second classroom; Miss Margaret Schenn, third classroom; Miss Lorraine Rusch, fourth classroom. Miss Schenn is succeeding Miss Freda C. Heuer.

At St. Paul Lutheran school Ernest E. Schulz will retain the principalship and teach the eighth grade. George Klecker will teach the seventh grade, Miss Gertrude Schmidt the fifth and sixth grades, Miss Margaret Dettman the third and fourth grades and a newcomer will have the first and second grades. Miss Schmidt of Good Thunders, Minn., is teaching in the place of George Klopke, Waupaca. The other new teacher will have Miss Melinda Bartsch's place, the latter having accepted a teaching position in Manitowoc.

Sister Annellus will replace Sister Athanasius, who has gone to St. Boniface at Manitowoc, at St. Theresa school. Sister Edmund will teach the fourth grade and Sister Charlotte, who taught the grade last year will now have the third grade, replacing Sister Fides, who has also gone to St. Boniface. The places of Sister Alfred, who is teaching in Reedsville, and Sister Fleurette, who is in Astoria, will be filled by two new nuns, Sister Angelica and Sister Mary. The other grades will be taught by Sister Luma, eighth grade; Sister Briden, seventh grade; Sister Gabriella, fifth grade; Sister Angelia will have the second grade and Sister Mary Doris the first. St. Theresa school will be open for registration, Sept. 4, but classes begin Sept. 8.

FORECAST FROST FOR NORTHERN WISCONSIN

A strong north wind which sent the mercury skidding last night after a rain storm, has brought warning that frost can be expected in the interior of northern Wisconsin. Saturday will continue cool, the weather men report.

The lowest temperature recorded last night by the government meteorologist at Menasha was 30 degrees, the highest mark during the day being 36 degrees. At noon Friday the mercury was at 43 degrees.

Rainfall last night was listed at 2 1/2 of an inch.

MOVING TO OSHKOSH

Mr. and Mrs. William Tesch, 431 W. Winnebago-st., son Thomas, and daughter Evelyn will go to Oshkosh Sunday where they will visit. Thomas will enter Oshkosh State Teachers college.

Fire Finally Burns Out In Dump At End Of Superior-st

Appleton's nine-tailed cat is dead. No one knows just when it licked the bucket, but sometime during the summer it rolled over on its back, waved a feeble goodbye, and gave its last gasp.

The Superior-st dump, a seething inferno for over a year, has finally burned itself out. Though it looked like a war scarred battlefield, no thin tendrils of evil-smelling smoke exuded from it any longer, and no smoldering heat cracks the surface of the lot.

A year ago when the dump, the receptacle for everything from automobile frames to garbage, became infested with cockroaches, every conceivable method of eliminating the crawling pests was tried. Lime, oil, water, and other preparations were poured upon the insects, but the sturdy bugs waded their way

CANNON'S AIDE WON'T TESTIFY BEFORE GROUP

The Southern Methodist leader violated the corrupt practices act by failing to report to congress a majority of the funds he received and expended as chairman of the Anti-Smith committee.

Bishop Cannon holds if he has a federal grant of the law it is for a legal grand jury and not the senate to decide.

Reads Letter

At the start of today's hearing, Chairman Nye placed in the record a letter written by Bishop Cannon to E. C. Jameson, of New York, in January, 1929, thanking him for the support given the Anti-Smith Democrats in the campaign. Jameson gave Bishop $55,300 for use in that campaign.

Nye said there was no reference in the letter to any separate Anti-Smith committee in Virginia, but that the letter throughout seemed to refer to a general, south-wide campaign.

Contributions of $1,200 in three checks to Bishop Cannon's Anti-Smith organization by William C. Gregg, of Hackensack, N. J., then were noted by the committee.

Chairman Nye said nothing would be done about the refusal of Miss Burroughs to testify until the committee meets to consider its report on the whole case to the senate.

The bespectacled Richmond woman read her statement in a mild tone, punctuating only slightly to emphasize reasons for not replying to questions.

Word H. Wood, President of the American Trust Company of Charlotte, N. C., followed her on the stand. He said that as a member of the Anti-Smith Committee of North Carolina in 1928 he received $5,000 from the headquarters committee of the Anti-Smith Democrats. He did not recall, however, who signed the check.

Wood said Frank R. McNinch was chairman of the North Carolina committee.

"Did you consider Mr. McNinch a Democrat?" asked Nye.

"Oh, yes; he was a Democrat," replied Wood.

A fight was made against confirmation of McNinch in the senate last year as a member of the federal power commission on the ground he was appointed as a Democrat, but was not a Democrat. McNinch was confirmed.

Seeks Assistance

Bishop Cannon turned to his "fellow workers" for funds after the 1928 campaign in which he collected more than $75,000 personally as chairman of the Anti-Smith Democrats.

A letter addressed to "dear friend and fellow workers" by Bishop Cannon on Jan. 26, 1929, soliciting funds to meet a "deficit" of the Anti-Smith Democrats was put before U. S. Jameson, at the hearing of the committee.

Mr. Jameson, who had just testified that he gave Bishop Cannon $5,300 after the 1928 election to pay off the "deficit," jumped from his seat to look at the letter after Chairman Nye read it.

Didn't Get Letter

"That is news to me," he commented. Jameson made his $7,000 payment in December and early in January after the election. The Cannon letter of Jan. 26 on Stationary of the "Headquarters committee, Anti-Smith Democrats," with a note at the top read:

"Note—if you have already received a copy of this letter ignore it."

"Dear Friend and fellow worker:

"When we balanced our books immediately following the November election we found that we were in debt to the amount of $7,000. After making allowances for unpaid subscriptions an advertisement was inserted in a number of papers as follows:

"Wanted, $5,500 to pay balance campaign expenses Anti-Smith Democratic committee. Make checks payable treasurer Anti-Smith Democrats Box 674, Richmond, Virginia."

Not Enough Funds

"Since the insertion of this advertisement our treasurer has received approximately $5,000. Additional bills have come in amounting to approximately $500 so that at the present time we need about $4,000 to pay in full the indebtedness of the campaign."

"We prefer not to advertise again unless it is absolutely necessary, so we are sending this letter to our friends who have helped in the past to meet our necessary expenses

AID FOR VOCATIONAL SCHOOL TOTALS $13,000

Almost $13,000 has been received by F. E. Bachman, city treasurer, as state and federal vocational school aid.

The federal aid which totaled $2,872.02, is a reimbursement which matches the expenditures of certain money by the vocational school during 1930-31. The state aid, $10,072.30, is the pro-rated portion of state aid granted for the conduct of approved classes in the local school.

HOLD FOUR AS POLICE PROBE DEATHS OF 11

Stage Post-mortem in Effort to Determine if Man Died of Poisoning

Detroit (AP)—Four persons were in custody today as authorities sought to learn whether the deaths of ten men over a period of eight years in Mrs. Rose Veras' rooming house were from natural causes or by violence.

Mrs. Veras, the 48-year-old Hungarian immigrant who held insurance policies on the ten who died has been in custody since Tuesday on a technical charge of murder. Other policies, 75, in all, were found by officers in her home and investigators were attempting to learn the fate of the insured.

The list of deaths under investigation had reached 11 today, with discovery that Valet Peterman, 63, a boarder in the Veras home, died shortly after moving to another house.

Sam Denney who, police say, lived in the Veras home until two weeks ago, was arrested in Logan, W. Va., late yesterday and a detective left last night to question him. Mrs. Veras' 15-year-old son, Gaber, was detained for questioning yesterday. Another son, William, 18, has been held for several days.

The investigation was inspired by the death of Steve Mak, a roomer, Tuesday morning from injuries received in a fall. Mrs. Veras said he fell while working on a ladder. Neighbors who claimed to have witnessed his fall, told police he appeared to have been pushed from an attic window and to have been dragged at the time. Investigators said Mrs. Veras held valid insurance policies on his life totalling $2,465.

A chemical analysis is expected to determine within a few days whether Mak was poisoned. If evidence of poison is discovered officers said they would have bodies of other of the deceased roomers exhumed.

Dr. James S. Lesonski, who treated five of the men who died, said yesterday he believed poison liquor was the probable cause of the numerous deaths. He said the men staying at the house drank heavily and rarely worked.

FARM BUILDINGS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Lightning Causes Conflagration on Stephen M'Clone, Jr., Farm

When lightning struck the buildings on the Stephen M'Clone, Jr., farm, east of Deer Creek, at 4 o'clock this morning, the large barn, granary, machine shed and silo burned to the ground. Several chickens and a quantity of hay were burned.

Mr. M'Clone could not estimate the loss, which he said was partly covered by insurance.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Arthur Casson and daughter, Florence, left Friday for their home in Rock Madison, Iowa, after visiting with Mrs. and Mrs. Albert Beitz, 239 N. Green Bay-st.

Miss Gertrude Zuehlke, 221 E. Circle-st., will leave Friday night for Iron Mountain, Mich., to resume her duties as head of the history department in Kingsford high school. She has been spending the summer with her mother, Mrs. Mary Zuehlke.

Miss Helen Mueller, instructor in voice at Lawrence Conservatory of Music, has returned from New York, where she studied voice during the summer. She is now visiting her parents in Minneapolis, Minn.

Dean Carl J. Waterman and LaVahn K. Maesch, who have been studying in Europe this summer, will sail for home on Saturday, arriving here Sept. 7.

Mr. William VanStratum returned Thursday night from month's visit with her son, William VanStratum, Jr., in New York city.

Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Bolton and son have returned from a two weeks' visit with relatives near Port Arthur, Canada.

Knowing that if all of them will help once more we can meet all our obligations in full and be spared the annoyance and embarrassment of a debt hanging over our heads for many months.

"It is doubtless needless to say that the action taken by the southern Anti-Smith Democrats in flatly refusing to commit moral suicide for the sake of a purely partisan victory stands out as the most remarkable and encouraging fact in the political life of our country during the past generation."

See Need For Change

"It is certainly to be hoped that it has been positively and unmistakably indicated that if the Democrat party is to remain as the dominant factor in the political life of the southern states it will be necessary to change a national leadership which has been so thoroughly discredited and overwhelmingly repudiated."

"Hoping that you can see your way clear to send an additional check to box 674, Richmond, Virginia, payable to James Cannon, Jr., chairman, we are your fellow workers."

It was signed James Cannon, Jr., chairman, and J. Sidney Peters, secretary.

Mr. Jameson testified that "immediately following the November election" he was informed of this $7,500 deficit and paid it.

"Then I assume you didn't get one of these letters," said Senator Nye.

"No," replied the campaign contributor.

Senator Nye said that of the $7,500 contribution made by Jameson, the records show that $3,100 went in payment of a printing bill and that an interest bearing certificate of deposit was purchased by Bishop Cannon out of the remainder.

YOUTH WAIVES HEARING ON BURGLARY CHARGE

Kerron E. Vandenberg, Green Bay youth, charged with burglarizing the Sietoff Hardware company store at Shiocton last Saturday night, waived preliminary hearing when arraigned before Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court Friday morning and was bound over. Information was to be read to him Friday afternoon and he then is expected to enter a plea.

Vandenberg, employed in Appleton, was arrested at his rooming house here when police traced a car seen outside the store Saturday night, and found most of the stolen articles.

APPLETON ELKS WIN CONVENTION HONORS

Ritualistic Team Is Selected As Best in State Association

Appleton Elk lodge team last night won the first place in ritualistic competition with the Kenosha team, of the Wisconsin Elk association convention at Sheboygan. Appleton team, which represented the eastern district of Wisconsin, was selected as the outstanding team in this district by Charles E. Broughton, Sheboygan, district inspector, to meet Kenosha, last year's champions.

Members of the winning team are: A. A. Grizmacher, Jr., president; Martin Van Roy, esquire; Alfie Bradford, esquire; Peter Traas, esquire; Donald Morrissey, esquire; Sarto S. Balliet, secretary; Forest Johnston, inner guard; and John Roach, chaplain. A trophy goes to the winning team.

Appleton lodge band, under direction of Edward F. Munum played for the ritualistic work. The band also played a public concert for Sheboygan residents and visiting Elks.

The ritualistic competition was the feature of the first day's convention program. Today golf and trap shooting occupied attention of the visitors and tonight the annual banquet will be held with a regal grand lodge of officers in attendance. E. W. Mackay, Manitowoc, state association president is presiding.

Saturday's program calls for another convention session, the annual parade and adjournment of the gathering.

Estimate 94,000 Persons Used Playgrounds This Year

Appleton playgrounds this year were used and visited by about 94,000 persons, according to Arthur C. Denney, director of the summer play program. The figure sets a new record. Warm weather from the time the grounds opened until the close of the season was one reason for the large attendance it is said.

Roosevelt junior high school grounds and Pierce park led others in attendance, according to Mr. Denney. The reason is that every night softball games attracted hundreds to the grounds. The Fifth ward grounds and Interlake park also showed increased attendance this year.

A large frame is being constructed for pictures of play ground champions during the last year. The pictures will be on display at the city hall a permanent record.

Champions for the last year follow:

Playground Baseball

Senior Division—American league, Fox River Paper company; National league, August Brandt company; Fraternal league, Holy Name Society, City Industrial league champions—August Brandt company.

Junior Division—Boys, Fifth ward playground; Girls—Third ward playground.

CASES OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS ARE ON DECREASE IN STATE

State Board of Health Sees Further Relief as Cooler Weather Approaches

Madison—The present occurrence of poliomyelitis, or infantile paralysis, in Wisconsin has not reached epidemic degree, in the opinion of the state board of health, and chances of a gradual disappearance of the outbreak as cooler weather approaches are considered quite favorable.

Poliomyelitis is treacherous in its attack, and parents throughout the state should be alert to discover any illness among their children. Local authorities can partially protect their communities from the spread of poliomyelitis by carefully isolating indefinite cases of illness that might prove to be of this dread disease, the state board points out.

Children who are ill but are vague in describing what seems to be wrong with them should be isolated promptly and kept isolated until a definite diagnosis has been established in the case. For the next few weeks anyone ill with symptoms suggesting poliomyelitis should have the attention of a doctor at once. The first 24 or 48 hours are vital if paralysis is to be prevented. Parents are advised not to be unduly alarmed but to be on guard for any symptoms of illness in the family, particularly among the children.

Five or ten days usually elapse after infection before the early symptoms make their appearance. These symptoms vary quite widely, headache, vomiting, sore throat, abdominal pain, muscular soreness, and stiffness of the neck muscles being some of the early symptoms that singly or in groups precede the appearance of paralysis.

Present In Secretions
The infection is present in the nose and mouth secretions of those who have the disease, and it is known that there are carriers of poliomyelitis who have not suffered from the ailment. Therefore, parents and others in contact with a possible case should take every precaution against personally spreading the infection.

If convalescent serum is used in the treatment of this disease it should be used early, for after the appearance of paralysis the use of serum is of little or no value. Wisconsin's action in establishing a supply of convalescent serum is expected to aid materially in cutting down the lasting effects of poliomyelitis.

Parents are urged to exert the utmost patience during the convalescent period of poliomyelitis cases that may occur in their families. The road to restored use of muscles after the ravages of this disease is long and up-hill, but when courageously traveled will spell greater usefulness and happiness for all concerned.

PRESCRIBE LOWER FREIGHT RATES FOR POTATO SHIPMENTS

Commission Takes Action on Charges of Traffic Association

BY RUBY A. BLACK
(Post-Crescent Washington Bureau)
Washington—Lower freight rates on potatoes from northern Wisconsin to the Missouri River cities and to other points in Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas have been prescribed by the Interstate Commerce commission.

Concurring with the charges of the Northern Potato Traffic association that existing rates from the so-called Princeton-Cambridge group in Wisconsin and Minnesota to the Missouri River cities, including St. Joseph, Mo., Atchison and Leavenworth, Kans., Omaha, Neb., and Council Bluffs, Ia., are unreasonable and unduly prejudicial, the commission has ruled that the rate should not exceed rates from the Twin Cities to these destinations by more than 3 cents per 100 pounds. To the other destinations in Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas, and Louisiana, similar proportionate not exceeding the rates from the Twin Cities to these destinations by more than 3 cents per 100 pounds are prescribed. The right of the railroads to levy a $5 rental fee per car per trip for the use of refrigerator or other insulated cars, was, however, upheld by the commission, despite the claim of the shippers that this charge is unfair. The new rates will go into effect on or before November 16.

CHOOSE HEALTHIEST CHILDREN NEXT WEEK

Madison—(AP)—From a group of some 150 boys and girls, Dr. W. J. Miller, deputy state health officer, and Dr. Margaret Nelson, bureau of child welfare physician, will select the healthiest boy and girl of Wisconsin next week.

Candidates for the crown of healthiest boy and girl have been entered by 4-H clubs from throughout the state in the contest which is one of the features of the state fair at Milwaukee.

The state board of health today declared that the 4-H club movement, in which the head, the heart, the hand and the health of each member are pledged to the betterment of the state, is credited with having effected a marked improvement in the physique and character of rural Wisconsin's young people. In last year's contest, 13 boys and 14 girls among the 165 entrants scored over 95 per cent in the official physical test, Dr. Miller said.

RELEASE SECOND FILM OF DR. STEPHEN BABCOCK

Washington—(AP)—A sound film of the late Dr. Stephen Moulton Babcock, for many years professor at the University of Wisconsin and inventor of the famous Babcock milk test, has been released for public use, the U. S. Department of Agriculture and Markets has announced. The "talkie" was made last February at the university, four months before the 87-year old professor's death and depicts Dr. Babcock at work at his invention.

"MONSTROUS" AND "AUTOCRATIC"

The circuit judges are having quite a bit of difficulty in concluding whether a lawyer suspended from practice by the supreme court may be reinstated by legislative enactment as was recently attempted.

Several circuit judges have ruled that this lawyer will not be permitted to practice, presumably upon the theory that the legislature exceeded its authority.

Several have ruled that the legislative enactment must be considered valid until the supreme court rules to the contrary and that he may practice in the interim, although such judges do not rule, at least directly, that the legislative enactment is valid.

Their decisions therefore are in fact an avoidance of the direct question: Is the legislative action constitutional?

But there was no avoidance by Judge Foley of Superior of his opinion of the "inherent right" of the supreme court to penalize lawyers.

He declared that to hold the act invalid would be "monstrous" and would result in the assertion of "autocratic" authority by the supreme court. A great many youngsters at years of adolescence would like to use "monstrous" and "autocratic" in describing the disciplinary rulings of parents and teachers.

Now the odd part about it all is that years and years ago in the northern part of the state there was a law firm in which one Owen and one Foley were partners. Partner Owen went forward as state senator, then attorney-general, and finally, with Progressive backing, became a justice of the supreme court, while partner Foley became a circuit judge.

It was Justice Owen who wrote the opinion declaring that the court had the "inherent power" to suspend or disbar attorneys and it is Judge Foley who regards such ruling as "monstrous" and "autocratic."

It almost looks like a family quarrel. This seems to us like a frightful rumour to raise over the period of suspension that shall be meted out by courts in trying to make lawyers pull down "the black flag of piracy" and erase the skull and crossbones from the bills they exact of crippled and maimed clients.

Baiters of our courts are hard put in Wisconsin to find some matter to criticize when such a hullabaloo is raised over the claim that the supreme court used too hard a ruler in whacking a lawyer's hand that had clenched in it too much of the money paid to settle injury cases.

It is time someone started to sob about some other "cruel punishment." "Hearts and Flowers" would be appropriate music.

TWO PEOPLE

One of the partners of Hackett, Hoff & Thiermann, with the company facing bankruptcy, took his life leaving a personal estate of about half a million dollars to his widow.

Promptly upon learning the condition of affairs the widow turned over to the company about 90 per cent of what was left to her expressing the hope that it would be used to pay the smaller and weaker creditors who would feel most sharply the failure.

There is plenty of goodness in this world a great many people perform, like this widow, acts of admirable virtue, and in many instances heroism, nor should their acts be permitted to disappear over the hill of forgetfulness. They are too worthy to be overlooked.

During the same time that this Wisconsin woman was demonstrating a character of high nobility a similar story from an eastern state came into print.

"Twenty-four years ago a man who had failed in business absconded his son to see that every creditor received '100 cents on the dollar.' The son promised, and to him a promise made meant business for on the 15th of August he filed a document showing that he had satisfied judgments against his father of over $400,000.

It was found that in order to do so he had devoted the intervening twenty-four years to a business that finally produced enough so that he might be able to keep the vow made to a dying sire so long ago.

Modestly he said: "It was my duty to do it to clear my father's name. My only regret is that some of the creditors had to wait so long for their money."

These are of the brighter, better, cleaner, finer things of life that help to make up for the desperate shortcomings of those who happen to be false.

AN ANTI-SPEAKEASY LEAGUE

The loss of one staunch, even financial, supporter like Samuel M. Vaulchain, chairman of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, would make little difference in the outcome of a cause but his desertion of the drys, and the pronounced and emphatic way in which he made it, seems to be getting general.

"I was for prohibition," declared Mr. Vaulchain, "because it abolished the saloons and grogshops; instead our cities and even the country districts have speakeasies. The bootlegger is getting the revenue which should, in part, go to the government."

This is a reiteration of a fact that has appealed to many millions of people.

In the old days we had the saloon and war was made upon it by an organization called the Anti-Saloon League.

The battle between the two waxed thick and hot for generations, until the time arrived when the country had its attention so intent upon the greatest holocaust that humanity has ever known, that the Anti-Saloon League came away with the plum. It won, however, fair and square according to all the rules of the game. In other words, the country was overwhelmingly convinced, for the time being, that the saloon was wrong and the Anti-Saloon League was right, but instead of merely abolishing the saloon, which was possible, it sought to abolish alcohol, which seems quite impossible.

It awakened one morning to find its successor, the speakeasy, blandly, but corruptly, pursuing the old business.

After twelve years of trial we do not find the trade to our advantage. It is not necessary to say that the saloon was virtuous, to find that we have received the worst of it, because the speakeasy as a symbol, is damnable.

And so, in addition to many other things, the country seems to need an Anti-Speakeasy League whose business it will be to put the speakeasy out of business.

But who, in fact, is the great protector of the speakeasy? It may curdle their members' blood to know that in reality it is the Anti-Saloon League. So steadfast is this organization in loyalty to its original doctrine that not only the saloon must go but everything in which it dealt with it, that it will permit in its place any sort of den of iniquity or disgrace.

And since this is a great country for lodges, orders and the like, it shouldn't be so difficult to arouse enthusiasm for the Anti-Speakeasy League.

The first thing the Anti-Speakeasy League must do is to rid the country of the Anti-Saloon League, else it can never defeat the speakeasy.

This may sound a bit absurd but if it is only a bit absurd it is so entirely sensible in comparison to prohibition that we may live with it.

THE STRIDES OF SCIENCE
A poet of old sang of the "music of the spheres," and for some thousands of years the world gave him credit for having poetic imagination that so poetic knowledge. But modern science is making many sciences audible, and he would be bold indeed who would deny that at some time the progress of stars hurtling through the void may be translated into rhythmic ether impulses that to the human ear may become celestial symphonies.

Turning from the infinite to the infinitesimal, we learn that something quite as miraculous already has been accomplished. An inventor connected with the United States Department of Agriculture has perfected a "time-lapse" motion picture camera which photographs upon motion picture film the process of germination in seeds and the growth of plants. This machine automatically turns on lights, makes exposures, turns off lights, stops action and repeats the performance at intervals ranging from 30 seconds to one hour indefinitely. Thus, when the film record is projected upon a screen it reveals to the human eyes these mysterious processes of plant life which normally are invisible.

And, although the inventions have not as yet been joined, another equally marvelous is reported from San Jose, Calif. The director of a radio station in that city has built a radio set of such delicacy that it translates into sound the radio energy developed by the sprouting of a bean seed.

One might predict that in the near future the farmer may be entertained during his leisure listening to a "talkie" of his growing crops.—Detroit News.

THIS business of getting up with a case of chills and then looking for ice water by noon isn't all that it might be . . . no, it isn't us, it's the new kind of weather that's been dished out lately . . . which, whether you like it or not, makes you realize that summer is nearing an end . . . and that, dear readers, is not exactly original . . .

In a couple of weeks or less those swell summer clothes you bought will begin to look like the silkiest purchases you ever made.

It's the Conversation About It

The convict who took off twenty pounds of weight so he could wear the warden's golf suit and escaped from prison in that manner by posing as a golfer, is back in jail. He talked too much.

And therein lies the moral about golf's greatest evil.

Now isn't Lindy glad that he took the missus along with him on his flight to the orient? Look at Pangborn and Herndon. When they arrived in Japan all by themselves, they were arrested and fined. Just suppose Mrs. Pangborn and Mrs. Herndon had been along?

But when Lindy and the missus arrived, the Japanese gave them as big a reception as Lindy himself got when he came back to New York after hopping the Atlantic in 1927.

And Rebuilding the House

Now they're designing wallpaper to represent the sort of scenes you like to see. For instance, you can have a lake or mountain or something right on the wall. And the more rabid of the goldmaniacs will probably have a couple of fairways fixed up at home and spend the winter practicing drives.

There's a terrier in Portland, Maine, who, at the head of church bells on Sunday, barks once or twice and runs a half mile to sit on the church steps until the services are over. LIFETIME

It isn't any trouble for the bird to learn to fly. The dog picks up its instinct in the twinkling of an eye. But life has countless lessons and endless blows to give.

Before a man can truly say that he has learned to live. The lifetime of a bird is brief; give dogs their food and drink. They do not ever lie awake at night to plan and think. But man has endless problems to be solved as best he can.

And he must suffer many woes to learn to be a man.

He follows this and follows that to find his folly out. In search of peace and pleasure long he gropes his way about.

His bliss and his failures cause him suffering and distress. For age discovers truths to him which youth could never guess.

He slowly learns that character by strength of will is made. He has to teach himself to stand when other flee afraid.

So much there is that puzzles man at every bend and turn. That seventy years are not enough for all he wants to learn.

He reads, he thinks, experiments, builds first his hope on gold. To find at last that wealth and fame bring little he can hold.

And dwelling in the lasting joys which friendship have to give. He sighs to think that he must die just when he's learned to live.

Personal Health Talks

WHY MODIFY MILK FOR THE BABY

Why not feed the young infant with milk just as it comes from the cow or the goat? That might be all right if you have a goat or if the milk comes from a tuberculin-tested cow and is delivered to your home immediately after milking.

Even if you can have milk from your own cow or goat or from your neighbor's delivered immediately after milking, it is generally advisable to modify the milk before you feed it to the baby. Here is a table showing the average or usual composition of human milk, cow's milk and goat's milk:

	Human Milk	Cow's Milk	Goat's Milk
Water	87.41%	87.27%	85.71%
Protein	2.29	3.55	4.29
Fat	2.78	3.64	4.78
Sugar	6.21	4.88	4.46
Mineral salts	.31	.71	.76

The purpose of modifying or altering cow's milk or goat's milk is to make it nearly like human milk as possible. The main difference in the composition of human milk and cow's or goat's is in the proportions of protein (casein and albumen) and of sugar (lactose, milk sugar). Human milk contains little more than half the amount of protein usually present in cow's or goat's milk, but almost twice as much sugar. In content there is no great difference except that goat's milk is the richest of all.

Suppose you have an infant a month or two old to feed, with cow's milk or goat's milk. It would be well to modify the fresh whole milk by simply diluting it with fresh boiled water boiled then cooled, in order to bring the proportion of protein down to about that of human milk. If the milk contains twice as much protein as human milk contains, you would bring the protein down to the right proportion by mixing with the milk an equal quantity of water. But that would also bring the proportion of fat and sugar down to barely more than half the amounts of these in human milk. So in order to correct the protein and fat, you would add some pure cream and some sugar to the mixture. Then you would have a modified milk very similar to human milk in composition, and that's what the young infant requires. It is not so important in the feeding of babies over six months of age.

It doesn't matter much which sugar you add in modifying milk for the baby—cane or best sugar, corn sugar, glucose, corn syrup, maltose, or lactose (sugar of milk). The cream is best taken from the top of a jar of fresh milk that has stood cooling for several hours.

Formerly lime water was added in modifying milk, but this is rarely necessary. If anything else than plain boiled water is used to dilute the milk, it had better be barley water or oatmeal water, barley water being somewhat less laxative than oatmeal water.

Here is a simple formula for modification of milk for a baby two months old: Add a pint of water to a quart of the milk, stir two tablespoons of sugar in, and add from one to three or four tablespoons of fresh cream.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Ringworm of Feet
Several months ago you sent me two formulas for ringworm of the feet (athlete's foot), and since then I have cured myself and two other persons, but now I find my copy is missing. (N. V.)

Salicylic acid 15 grains
Benzoic acid 25 grains
Soft petrolatum 2 drams
Cocconut oil to make 1 ounce

Apply at night to affected patches of skin, for one week, then rest a week and resume if necessary.

Whitfield's lotion for use in daytime.

BENZOIC ACID

Benzoic acid 4 1/2 drams
Acetone 1 ounce
Diluted alcohol, enough to make 4 oz.

I cannot guarantee these recipes will come thru in print as I write them. Glad to mail any reader on request the information, if he incloses a stamped envelope bearing his address.

Seasonal Asthma

I have frequent attacks of asthma from April to October. Have been bothered most of my life. Had a sinus operation by eminent surgeons which was supposed to cure but it was a total failure . . . (H. T. R. Jr.)

Answer—The seasonal character of your trouble suggests pollenitis—some form of "hay fever." But then, possibly it is some particular food or other protein with which you happen to come in contact in the noisier months, say a dog, cat, horse, or even the face powder your summer girl uses.

Round Shoulders

Daughter, 12, getting round shoulders. Would it be advisable to give her a (bifalutin nostrum) during the day and at bedtime? (Mrs. C. L. McG.)

Answer—Send stamped envelope bearing your address and ask for instructions for posture exercises to oppose the tendency to round shoulders. I do not think the nostrum would do the child as much good as plain wholesome food which she likes. By all means see that your daughter gets the full benefit of every bit of physical education the school she attends affords.

The Tynmites

By Hal Cochran

THE hat shop was a busy place and when the owner showed his face we saw a sign that said, "How do you do?" We're traveling 'round the world, you see. "You're just as welcome as can be," the man replied. "Just look about and see what can be found."

Then Cochran, glancing to a shelf, said, "Do you make these hats yourself?" "Of course," replied the shopman. "I am busy all day long. I make them large and also small so they will fit on short folks and tall. I have so many sizes that nobody can go wrong."

"I'll bet you that you can't fit me," cried Cochran. "Try your luck and see. I have a funny shaped head, but it's full of brains, at that." The hatman laughed and said, "Well, I will be real glad, at least to try. Just follow me and I will shortly pick you out a hat."

He reached up to a real high shelf and said, "I like this hat, myself, and think it will look good on you. When it is on somebody's head real lovely it appears." Wea Carpy put it on real quick, just hoping that it would look slick. But all the bunch began to roar. It came down over his ears.

The shopman said, "Well, goodness me, I didn't think that, could be. It is the smallest hat I have. You're smaller than I guessed." And so they left the man behind to see what else they all could find. There were so many places it was hard to pick the best.

The Travel Man then said, "What fun 't would be to watch the horses run. Let's go out to the race track. There's a dandy race today." This proved the very best of treats and they were soon in grandstand seats. While waiting for the race they listened to a big band play.

A Bystander In Washington

BY HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington—Suppose Senator Moses of New Hampshire is correct when he says that the present organization of the senate might be overturned by a single vote cast through "plique, resentment, or even cussedness."

Then it is possible that the steadfast refusal of Governor Long of Louisiana to take his seat in the senate until next May, when his gubernatorial term expires, might after all be a happy circumstance for the democrats—to some of them, at least.

The count now stands 48 republicans, 47 democrats and one farmer-laborite. With Long remaining in Louisiana, the democrats would have one less vote during the period of organization.

There is undoubtedly a feeling among some democrats that it would be a political blunder for the party to assume control of the senate with the accompanying responsibility on the eve of a presidential year.

To this group, therefore, Long's absence, in the face of Moses' prophecy, offers a happy way out.

Just how deeply Moses believes in his prediction, only the outcrops and peepers New Hampshire senators know.

But that there is a lack of cordiality between him and those he once dubbed as the "sons of the wild jackasses" there can be no doubt.

One senator in particular—Young Gerald Nye of North Dakota—would like nothing better than to see Moses toppled from his position of power in the senate.

Nye has a personal grievance against Moses. He has never quite forgiven the New Hampshire senator for putting in the Congressional Record last January the expense account of Nye's committee investigating campaign expenditures.

The action elicited young Gerry's aplomb. He admitted, at the time that it took him an hour "to subdue the spirit that first seized upon me," and even then he wasn't at all sure he had succeeded.

On A Single Vote
Washington observers think, however, that both factions will do some serious thinking before taking definite action. There's too much at stake.

It should that single vote succeed in overturning the present organization Moses would lose his job as president pro tem, as well as the custodianship of the senate office building—a task he takes great delight in.

On the other hand Nye would lose the chairmanship of the public lands committee, Borah, foreign relations; Norris, judiciary; La Follette, manufacturers; Frazier, Indian affairs; Howell, claims and Norbeck, banking and currency.

Seen And Heard In New York

BY WILLIAM GAINES

New York—Things are so dull in Bagdad-on-the-Brink these sultry days, it's indeed refreshing to learn more about the excitements of the hinterland—the invasion of the circus and the grasshoppers.

Here's a letter from an Illinois, Ill., boy home on vacation from the big city (where he has done very well, thank you).

"There's a lot of talk about grasshoppers out this way, but none in evidence in the corn belt."

"Apparently it doesn't make much difference to the farmers, however, as they don't expect to get much for their grains anyway. So they sit at home and listen to Cab Calloway's orchestra on the radio or motor to the circus."

"Sitting on a curb in front of Decatur's (Ill.) new interurban depot, Sunday afternoon, I encountered Dexter Fellows, press agent extraordinary of the circus."

"The indefatigable 'Dr. Fellows' was bound on the same interurban car for Springfield."

"We reminisced a spell on New York in summer, a subject with which the ambassador of John Ringling is scarcely familiar, because for 10 years he has traveled the hinterland during that season."

Insects to Elephants
"A circus man, Fellows' enthusiasm is not for ferocious tigers or pachydermic marvels, but dogs. He once had an Irish setter, which he said 'passed on.' He buried it in a dog cemetery near Hartford, Conn., his home."

"Incidentally, he virtually cleared up the sizzling question of how long an elephant lives."

"Reports of hundred-year-old elephants, with circuses are mostly hoaxes, Fellows said."

"The oldest one with his circus now is about 80, and he—John—is not long for this elephantine life. The grunts of the jungle rarely, if ever, live a century in captivity."

FEDERAL AID FOR JOBLESS

Labor Leader Estimates
7,000,000 Men Will Be Out of Work This Winter

Washington—(AP)—Prediction that federal appropriations will be needed to supplement local efforts to relieve the unemployed during the coming winter was made today by William Green, President of the American Federation of Labor.

A member of the national advisory committee set up by President Hoover to aid Walter S. Gifford, national relief director, in providing relief through local funds, Green said in an interview he doubted whether his effort would be adequate.

The labor leader estimated the unemployment total would reach 7,000,000 during the coming winter and said "The need for relief will be far greater this winter than last."

"We will find later that appropriations will have to be made by state legislatures and the federal government to assist in relieving distress," he said.

"Gifford is on the right track and the appointment of the director and the national committee came at the right time. If further delay had occurred, suffering would probably have been much greater."

Heroic Efforts

"Even now it will require heroic efforts on Mr. Gifford's part to prepare for the heavy demands that will come with the first frost. It will require many millions of dollars."

Green said that many of the unemployed, who were able to help themselves last winter, would find their savings and resources exhausted during the coming cold months.

The labor leader based his estimate of next winter's unemployed on federation statistics which indicate there are now slightly more than 5,000,000 men out of work.

August showed a slight increase in employment, he said. This he explained, was only seasonal and couldn't be interpreted as a fundamental change for the better, and would not lessen the winter problem.

Temporary Gain

"Even allowing for the temporary fall gain in employment," he said, "we will have some 2,000,000 more to provide for in addition to the five million now out of work."

"There is only one way to lessen this number," for industry to keep men at work by shortening work hours and dividing available jobs among all. This, with a guarantee of work to the minimum force in each plant, would be an immense bulwark against business depression this winter."

Faced with Green's estimate of an increase in unemployment, Gifford went ahead today with plans for relieving distress. Working quietly, he was assembling a force of assistants

New York—(AP)—America's second "good will" program to Germany has been set for Sunday Sept. 6.

It will consist of songs of Dixie by the Southernaires quartet and besides the transmission on WEAF-NBC, it will cross the Atlantic on short waves. This feature is part of the program exchange now going on between the United States and Germany.

Everywhere that John S. Young, NBC announcer goes nowadays there's a policeman along. In the studio and out, at the microphone, and away, this guard is present, keeping an alert eye pooled for any possible carrying out of that threat that Young received by telephone, this week against his life. The threat followed his announcement of the

REVOLVER RETURNED TO MAN ON COURT ORDER

Madison—(AP)—More than nine years ago Hartwell Farwell shot and killed Phil Holstein.

This week he regained, by a court order, the revolver he used in the shooting. Since his conviction in 1922 on a second-degree manslaughter charge, Farwell's gun has been among the archives of the circuit court.

Circuit Judge A. G. Zimmerman signed the order which returned the gun to Farwell. According to evidence at the trial in 1922, Farwell, es.

shot Holstein because the latter refused to discontinue a courtship of Farwell's sister.

Allow Child To Play In His Own Way

BY ANGELO PATRI
"No, no, Mary Jane, put the cover on the other way. That's right. But Mary Jane, you aren't going to use those dishes, are you? Why don't you use all pink ones, or all green ones? Nobody mixes dishes, you know."

"I like them mixed. For me mixed is better."
"What would your little friends say if they came and saw a table set with mixed doll dishes. No, no. Do it right."
"Put your Helen doll in the big chair. O, I wouldn't bring that old rag thing to the party. Put her away. Bring out the sailor doll. He'll look so cunning."

"The other dress is better. You don't look so well in blue."
"No, no, no. Whoever heard of hiding gundrops in the napkins? They'll be all over the place. I can't help what you like this time. Put the gum drops on the plate. You oughtn't have them at all. Get some chocolates."

"I'm not going to have any party at all. You're just too bossy, that's what you are," wailed Mary Jane, exhausted in the struggle.

Mother was too anxious that the doll party be correct. Mary Jane was anxious that be what she thought lovely. Four years and forty were in combat.

Little children cannot stand too much supervision. The weight of an adult personality is too much for them. They soon break under the pressure. That makes it very difficult for both and it is always best to avoid such a situation.

When a child has been given permission to make preparations for some joyous event, let him go to it alone. When he asks for help, not before. It is fair to suppose that you would not have given the permission had the child not been capable of seeing the thing through fairly well.

Children rebel against too much help because their nervous organization becomes fatigued by it. Trying to follow directions, struggling between what they have planned to do and what is ordered that they do, they break under the strain. That accounts for a great deal of the impudence parents complain about. The impudent child is usually a very tired child.

When a child talks rudely to a parent it is usually the sign of fatigue. The child is worn out and in desperation turns on the person who, to his mind, is to blame.

Give as few directions as possible. Interfere only when necessary. Offer help rarely. Wait until you are asked for it. This will save a lot of misunderstanding. (Copyright, 1931, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

ALIBI WINS FREEDOM FROM LIQUOR CHARGE

Milwaukee—(AP)—Prohibition law charges against Michael Calamo, Racine, were dismissed here yesterday on the basis of what U. S. Commissioner Floyd Jenkins said was the first "real alibi" he has heard in a year and a half of listening to such pleadings.

Calamo, charged with operating a still at Racine, satisfied the commissioner he had transferred his residence to Chicago prior to discovery of the still. He said he rented the home to "an army buddy from New York." A fire revealed the still and agents linked Calamo with it because of papers found in the place.

He was accompanied to Tennessee by two deputies from that state.

ESCAPED PRISONER RETURNS TO JAIL

Cincinnati—(AP)—William L. Cherry, convict who surrendered to police here Monday, was returned today to Tennessee state prison farm at Nashville where he escaped, in 1921, while serving a three to fifteen year term for passing worthless checks. He said he gave himself up because his conscience hurt and he had had no peace of mind since gaining illegal freedom.

Cherry claimed to have served during the World War and to have been on the San Francisco police force and San Quentin Penitentiary guard staff.

He was accompanied to Tennessee by two deputies from that state.

The Story of Sue

MARGERY HALE
© 1929 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

SUE knew she had made some sort of mistake the second that she asked Dr. Barnes if he minded if she strolled into the garden with Thomas Andrews. "Oh, so you know the secret and call Dr. Barnes Hubert, too do you?" Lois laughter-filled voice drifted straight to Sue, but others, standing near, heard it.

"You didn't exactly have a patent on it, you know, Lois," Dr. Barnes reminded Lois.

Sue was sure that there was laughter in his own eyes. She knew that she had erred somehow. His name evidently wasn't Hubert. And if it wasn't, for what did the "Dr." stand? And what was she supposed to call him?

"Of course not," Mrs. Andrews was saying to Dr. Barnes. "And you quite sure your fiancée has known you long enough to have learned what your real name is. But I didn't know that anyone else called you by the name I used to use. What is the story back of your use of it?" She turned to Sue. "I was in a play with him... amateur dramatic stuff, you know... once, and he was Hubert. So he stayed that way ever since. I didn't know he had adopted the name permanently in place of Herbert, although I much prefer it. Now tell me where you got the name?"

"I'll let Hubert do that. It's a funny sort of story," Sue explained. "It's really very... funny." And for no reason at all she was suddenly seized with an insane desire to laugh, and could not stop.

Dr. Barnes evidently felt the contagion and joined her. They laughed until they were spent, and still Sue couldn't stop. She knew still the laughter was more or less an emotional outlet, that nothing particularly funny had happened. And she knew, also, that whatever embers were smoldering in Lois Andrews, had burst into riotous flame.

"It is funny," Lois Andrews said. "Come on, Hubert, I want to hear about it." She linked her arm in his and started to pull him away.

"And you'll step into the garden, won't you, Maude?" Thomas Andrews asked. "Maude, you know, was the name of the young lady who made one garden famous, and since we are using other names, I'll take that one for you."

Just a little while later Sue was going to wish that he hadn't. But at that minute it didn't matter.

They walked through the winding paths, under the witchery of the moonlight that the breeze traced above their heads, and the scent of lilacs came to them, sweet and persuasive. They roamed around the fountain which splashed silver melodies and then drowned them to make way for others. They both remarked that the moon had a red-dish tinge tonight. And all the time Thomas Andrews called Sue Maude.

He was very interesting, she decided. A nice sort of interest. He didn't try to get romantic. He might have, though. She sensed that. But a girl expected that when she went strolling in the moonlight with a man who had had two wives, and who had a flair for the romantic in his eyes and voice and home.

"You aren't to be married for a few months?" he said suddenly.

"No, we see we can't until Jack gets back from... She stopped suddenly. She had forgotten the role she was playing.

NEXT—Thomas Barnes puzzles Sue.

For Classroom

BY ANNEBELLE WORTHINGTON
Illustrated Dressmaking Lesson
Furnished With Every Pattern

Who wouldn't love to have the opportunity to wear this smart little woolen frock for classroom?

It has the new straight silhouette and skirt cut, so modish. It features the flat neckline, in attractively shaped band effect that offers such interesting theme for contrasting trim.

It is rayon pin dotted wool voile in dark brown so smartly appropriate for early fall. The applied collar and cuffs bands are vivid red plain wool voile.

Style No. 3317 is designed for the sophisticated miss of 6, 8, 10, 12 and 14 years.

Size 8 requires 1 1/2 yards 39-inch with yard 27-inch contrasting. Wool jersey, printed sheer worsted linen and tweed-like cottons are tremendously smart in this model.

Don't envy the woman who dresses well and keeps her children well-dressed. Just send for your copy of our Fall and Winter Fashion Magazine.

It shows the best styles of the coming season. And you may obtain our Pattern at cost price of any style shown. The Pattern is most economical in material requirements. It enables you to wear the new frocks at little expense—two frocks for the price of one.

You will save $10 by spending 10 cents for this book. So it would pay you to send for your copy now. Address Fashion department.

Be sure to fill in the size of the pattern. Send stamps or coin (coin preferred).

WE WOMEN
By Virginia Vane

FORLORN SISTER MUST LEARN INDEPENDENCE—TESTED LOVE MORE DEPENDABLE THAN FIRST GLAMOR

Dear Miss Vane: I am twenty-one and very unhappy although the reason is not a usual one. All my life I have depended on my elder brother who has been my best friend and greatest help in every way. Because of him I have been popular with a certain crowd, been admitted to certain clubs, etc. He has guided me and directed me. Now he is going to be married, and to a girl who will certainly take him away from me. She and I could never be real friends although I have tried hard. He is so happy that he does not notice the change between us, but it breaks my heart. I feel lost without him already. What will I do when he marries? Can you give me any advice?

LONELY SISTER.

It's a pretty tough break for you but it would have been a great deal worse if it had happened later on. Your dependence on your brother had to end some time, and the sooner you get the business over with, the better. He couldn't be your guide and mentor all his long life. Better that you should have to break away while you're young.

You see you have to stand on your own feet in this world. Everyone does. It's dangerous to expect that any particular person will give you protection from life. You've had a fairly easy time thus far, probably benefiting from your brother's personal success, his popularity, his greater wisdom.

But you couldn't go on like that forever. The girl who is merely a pale shadow of her big brother doesn't last long. He may be able to take her to dances, to make friends, superficial friendships for her, to see that she doesn't make the mistakes usually made by flappers—but he can't make her a real personality unless he lets her become independent.

You've come to depend on his courage and his brains and his self-confidence so much that you haven't bothered to collect any of these attributes for yourself. And now you feel weak and defenseless without your invaluable support. But you're young enough to

NEW HATSCALL ATTENTION TO LOVELY HAIR

BY ALICIA HART

Since hats are going in for acrobatics, hair has to be lovely enough to fit in with any scheme. Some hats do nose dives. Others flatten themselves against one cheek and leave the other cheek and part of the hair right in the public view. Some have plumes that curl beguilingly and some do not. In fact, there is no telling at all what a hat will do, but your hair must be ready for any stunt.

A hat that is going to attract attention to itself by the very set of it, is pretty sure to call attention to your hair. You can't pull the new hats over your locks and forget about them. You have to polish them up for the picture.

First of all make sure that your hair is healthy. That it is strong and vibrant. Brush it. The proverbial one hundred strokes and then some more. This brings the blood to the surface and makes your scalp tingle. Try the type of brush that pulls the hair over the bristles and turns it as it does its work. A little hair pulling is an excellent thing. Not the rough type that makes you grimace in pain, but the kind that wakens you.

Cleanliness is of vital importance. Some hair needs shampoos more frequently than others. The important thing is to have your scalp and hair clean. Whether you use tonics and try dry shampoos, or one with a special soap or liquid, depends pretty much on your own individual hair problem. All hair, however, needs good scrubbing in an efficient, firm manner at least once every two or three weeks, especially in warm weather. There are some beauticians who advise that this is often enough at any time, if the hair is brushed and cleaned with dry shampoos regularly.

Curls are back of course—those that do beguiling things to your face with all the old-fashioned charm that made Martha Washington and her contemporaries such a huge success. But you needn't worry if your hair does not like to stay curled. Make sure that it is soft and fluffy and lovely, and you will be able to achieve a successful feminine effect wherever your hair shows.

Straight hair isn't exactly the thing for the new hats. A dip and a wave and a swirl, something with a note of intrigue, belongs in the new picture which takes its cue from an old-fashioned style book. Copyright, 1931 NEA Service, Inc.)

MY NEIGHBOR Says —

Mend clothes, especially starched ones, before sending them to the laundry, so that when they are returned, clean and nicely folded, there will be no need to disarrange and crumple them for mending purposes.

Few people know how to hang sheets on the line. Shake them well while still wet and hang them with the hems together and the hem-edge pinned to the line. This prevents whipping the corners and lessens the wear and tear, while the sheet will need less pulling into shape for the ironing.

Beef or mutton drippings which are to be used for pastry should be beaten to a cream with a teaspoon of baking powder and a few drops of lemon juice. If this is done the pastry will be much lighter.

(Copyright, 1931, by The Associated Newspapers.)

only remains for you to swallow what's left of that fierce pride of yours and realize that this trying experience may have given both of you a greater understanding and appreciation of each other.

E. A. Everyone can't be as fond of your friends as you are. Don't try to make them all one happy family circle. You'll only worry yourself and make them thoroughly uncomfortable. Just keep those apart who don't really like each other.

ALDERMEN TO OPEN OAK-ST SEWER BIDS

Final Action on Project Expected at Special Council Session

Menasha—Final action on construction of the new sanitary sewer on Oak-st will probably be taken by Menasha aldermen when bids on the project are opened at a special meeting of the common council, Friday evening.

Bids were received at the regular meeting of Aug. 18, and although a favorable vote on one of the proposals was taken, the action was later rescinded when it was discovered that one bid had been overlooked.

Should a bid be accepted Friday, work on the sewer will begin as soon as possible, in order to complete general improvement of the street.

MENASHA SOCIETY

All St. Thomas Episcopal church societies except the Young Peoples society will resume regular meetings during the week beginning Sept. 6. The societies are: Bar. A. Gordon, Forwards, Mrs. Thomas and St. Agnes, guilds, scouts, and choir will begin activities during that week, while the Young Peoples society will hold its opening session early in October.

A surprise party celebrating the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Gus Herman was given by a number of friends at the Herman home Thursday evening. Games were played, honors going to Mrs. Ernest Jenkins, Miss Marie Hahn, Mrs. Thornton, Mrs. John Mueller, and Mrs. S. Smith. Lunch was served.

Mrs. John Jagerson entertained at her home Thursday evening in honor of Mrs. Grace Pankrat of New York and Mrs. Charles Relyea of Detroit, Mich., visiting in Menasha. Cards were played, honors going to Mrs. Pankrat, Mrs. Charles Soko, Mrs. Relyea, and Miss Emma Grosel.

Mrs. Harold Holtersen, Hewitt-st., entertained at a 1 o'clock luncheon in her home Thursday in honor of Miss Grace Pankrat of New York, and Mrs. Charles Relyea of Detroit, Mich. Fifteen guests attended.

Fidelity Life association will meet in the Memorial building Wednesday evening. A social meeting will follow the transaction of routine business.

Ladies of St. Mary's parish will conduct a food sale at the Bach Dry Goods store, Saturday afternoon. Bargaining will begin at 2 o'clock.

Menasha series of Eagles met in the lodge rooms, Thursday evening. Routine business was transacted.

A regular meeting of the Catholic Women's Association will be held in St. Mary's school hall Friday evening. A business and social meeting is planned.

A series of weekly dancing parties, under the auspices of Henry J. Lenz post of American Legion, will be continued in the city park pavilion, Monday evening.

POSTAL SOFTBALLERS WHIP NEENAH, 12 TO 4

Menasha—A hard hitting softball team, wearing the colors of the Menasha postoffice, swamped the Neenah city hall team, 12 to 4, at Neenah Thursday evening. The mail men, who have failed to win a ball game for several weeks, strengthened their squad with a number of "ringers," and had little difficulty in maintaining a comfortable lead over the officials.

"Tipper," Amos hurried for the mail men, with Raleigh working behind the plate. The losing battery was Mattison and Huesp.

MENASHA MERCHANTS WHIP PICKUP TEAM

Menasha—The Menasha Merchants turned back the Second Ward Pickup, 13 to 9, on the Third-st diamond Thursday evening. Scoring eight runs in the second inning, the Merchants were unable to hold their lead for the remaining five innings.

Voss and Reese made up the Merchants battery, while Ponto hurried for the Pickups with McGooey catching.

The Merchants will reappear against former members of their team, Friday evening. In a previous game the count was knotted at nine all when the tilt was called on account of darkness.

LIFE GUARD WINDS UP DUTIES NEXT SUNDAY

Menasha—Joseph Liebl, city park life guard, will conclude the season's activities at the park beach Sunday, according to the park officials. Should extensive swimming activities continue after that date, however, the life guard will appear at the beach during the latter part of each afternoon.

Activities at the municipal bathing beach on Lake Winnebago also will close Sunday, officials have announced. The beach has attracted large crowds throughout the summer.

RECTOR, WIFE GOING TO CHURCH GATHERING

Menasha—The Rev. and Mrs. A. Gordon Forwards will attend the general convention of Episcopal clergymen and laymen at Denver, Colo., next month. The Rev. Forwards, rector of St. Thomas Episcopal church here, is one of the official delegates from the Fond du Lac diocese, and Mrs. Forwards will represent the church auxiliary. They plan to leave Menasha about Sept. 13.

BEG PARDON

A small fire, extinguished by the fire department Wednesday morning in a pile of rags, was located under a warehouse platform near the Allen Waste Paper Co. and not on the company grounds, as stated in yesterday's Post-Crescent. The Post-Crescent was misinformed.

ALL STARS WILL MEET STRONG APPLETON TEAM

Menasha—The Menasha All Stars are slated to meet the strong Appleton All Stars squad on the Power diamond Friday evening. Adrian and Reimer, a smooth working battery, helped the Menasha team to a 10 to 1 win over Kimberly Thursday evening, and probably will be used in Friday's game.

VOCATIONAL CLASSES START NEXT MONDAY

Little Change in Enrollment Anticipated by Director

Menasha—Menasha vocational school classes will begin at 8 o'clock Monday morning, according to S. E. Crockett, director. Although the exact number is not yet available, little change in the number of students is expected.

The new printing course, for which equipment was recently installed at the high school building, will be available to both vocational and night school students and a large enrollment is expected. Night school classes will begin early in October, Crockett stated.

MAIL MEN, OFFICIALS RENEW SOFTBALL FEUD

Menasha—Renewing a feud started last season, the Menasha postoffice and city office softball teams will open a seven game series on the Wisconsin Tissue Mills diamond, Saturday afternoon. Berro is expected to perform on the mound for the officials, while Videman will work for the mail men.

SECOND SOFTBALL TILT NEXT SUNDAY

Menasha—The second tilt of a three game series between the Menasha Merchants and Loop Merchants will be staged on the Third-st diamond Sunday afternoon. The first contest a few days ago was taken by the Menasha Merchants, and the winner of the series will meet the Dornbrook builders for the second ward championship.

HORTONVILLE TO BOOST FAIR WITH BIG PARADE

Menasha—A parade of about 50 automobiles and trucks, boosting the seventy-second annual Outagamie-co fair at Hortonville, will arrive in Menasha about 7:30 Friday evening, according to a communication received by Chief of Police James Lyman. The parade is sponsored by the Hortonville commercial club.

TWIN CITY DEATHS

THEODORE MAGALSKI
Menasha—Theodore Magalski 78, died at his home at 423 Second-st. about 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. He had been in poor health for several years.

He was born in Germany, Nov. 22, 1852, but has been a resident of Menasha for the past 57 years. He was a member of Catholic Knights of Wisconsin and the St. Peter and Paul society.

NEENAH PERSONALS

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hering, DeForest, Menasha, Thursday night at Theda Clark hospital.

Roy Bart, Third-st, Menasha, submitted to a minor surgical operation at Theda Clark hospital Friday morning.

MR. MARGARET MALCHOW

Menasha—Mrs. Margaret Malchow, 82, pioneer resident of this city, died at 4:30 Thursday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Ryhner, 320 Nicolet-bldg, Menasha.

Mrs. Malchow, nee Margaret Brown, was born Nov. 6, 1848, in Buffalo, N. Y. She came to Neenah with her parents when she was 7 years of age, and lived here until four years ago when she made her home with her daughter.

ROAD WORKER INJURED BY HANDLE OF SCRAPER

Neenah—Peter Weinman, route 1, Neenah, is in Theda Clark hospital receiving treatment for injuries received when the handle on a road scraper he was operating struck him on the head and shoulder. He is being treated for concussion of the brain and a severe scalp laceration. His shoulder was badly bruised. Mr. Weinman was scraping the town road near Highway 41 when the accident occurred.

LAKEVIEW BOWLERS ESTABLISH AVERAGES

Neenah—Reglers of the Lakeview Bowling league rolled a three game series to establish averages and handicaps in league competition Thursday evening on the Neenah alders. The first matches are to be rolled in the near future. Six teams, composed of employees of the Kimberly-Clark Corporation's Lakeview mill, will compete in the league.

JOSEPH SCHLEGEL

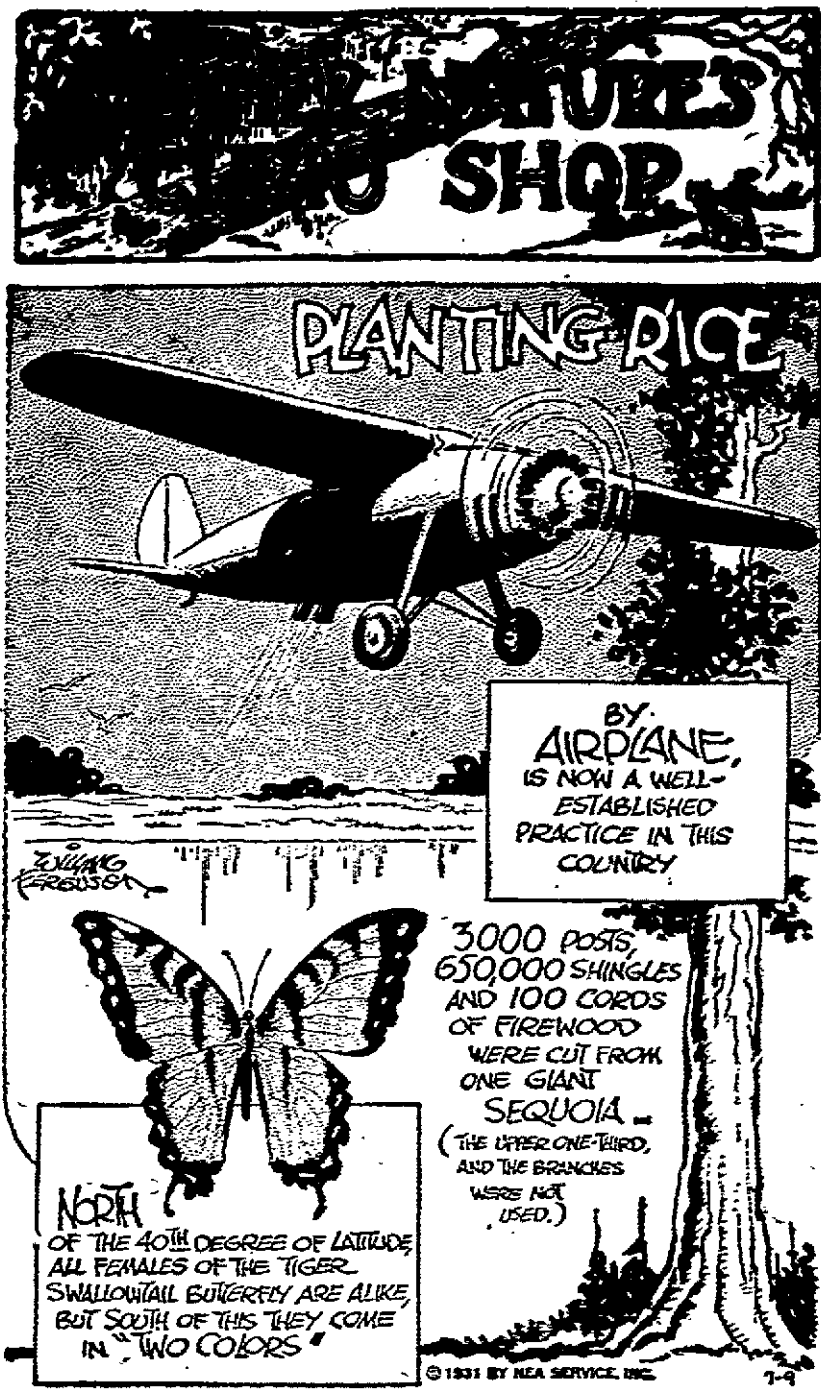

Menasha—Funeral services for Joseph Schlegel, 75, were held from St. Mary's church at 9 o'clock Friday morning. The Rev. John Hummel officiating. Interment was in St. Mary cemetery.

LUTHERAN SCHOOL TO OPEN DOORS MONDAY

Neenah—The Trinity Lutheran parochial school will open for the fall term at 9 o'clock Monday morning. It was announced this morning by Prof. William Heilmann, principal. The school building was renovated during the summer months.

PUT OUT GRASS FIRE

Neenah—The fire department was summoned to a field owned by Nick Kramer on S. Park-ave to extinguish a grass fire. The blaze was extinguished with water from a booster pump.

Neenah—Lightning caused considerable damage to the home occupied by the Gestar Napuck family on 523 Elm-st, about 8:30 Thursday evening during the thunderstorm. The bolt struck an aerial, and traveled into the house, damaging radio apparatus and a window. The window was smashed and the sill slightly damaged.

SYMONDS OUTLINES ROTARY OBJECTIVES

Neenah—Objectives of Rotary were outlined in an address by Charles D. Symonds, district governor, Iron Mountain, Mich., at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary club at Valley Inn Thursday afternoon. At 11 o'clock yesterday morning, Mr. Symonds met with the Neenah club council and heard reports of various committees on projects and activities of the local organization.

ROAD WORKER INJURED BY HANDLE OF SCRAPER

Neenah—Peter Weinman, route 1, Neenah, is in Theda Clark hospital receiving treatment for injuries received when the handle on a road scraper he was operating struck him on the head and shoulder. He is being treated for concussion of the brain and a severe scalp laceration. His shoulder was badly bruised. Mr. Weinman was scraping the town road near Highway 41 when the accident occurred.

LAKEVIEW BOWLERS ESTABLISH AVERAGES

Neenah—Reglers of the Lakeview Bowling league rolled a three game series to establish averages and handicaps in league competition Thursday evening on the Neenah alders. The first matches are to be rolled in the near future. Six teams, composed of employees of the Kimberly-Clark Corporation's Lakeview mill, will compete in the league.

JOSEPH SCHLEGEL

Menasha—Funeral services for Joseph Schlegel, 75, were held from St. Mary's church at 9 o'clock Friday morning. The Rev. John Hummel officiating. Interment was in St. Mary cemetery.

LUTHERAN SCHOOL TO OPEN DOORS MONDAY

Neenah—The Trinity Lutheran parochial school will open for the fall term at 9 o'clock Monday morning. It was announced this morning by Prof. William Heilmann, principal. The school building was renovated during the summer months.

PUT OUT GRASS FIRE

Neenah—The fire department was summoned to a field owned by Nick Kramer on S. Park-ave to extinguish a grass fire. The blaze was extinguished with water from a booster pump.

MAC DONALD OUSTED BY LABOR PARTY

The part their leaders are taking in the reorganized cabinet and Lord Reading, liberal foreign secretary, announced at his party's session that David Lloyd George, the Liberal leader, has concurred in all the Liberal decisions taken thus far.

His statement refuted another rumor that Lloyd George would throw the field against the new regime as soon as he recovers his health.

Still another report had Chancellor Philip Snowden resigning from the cabinet but the veteran statesman spiked this one with a statement that he will hold on to the end, retiring from politics after this national emergency.

Baldwin Explains
Formation of a non-partisan national government was the only possible course in the face of Great Britain's economic crisis, Stanley Baldwin, the Conservative leader, told a meeting of his parliamentary party today.

It would have been impossible, he said, for the Labor government to have taken its problems to parliament and rested its fate upon a vote in the house of commons.

"We could not have told the house or the country all we knew about the situation," he said, "for fear that very thing would start a panic which we all were so anxious to avoid."

In the circumstances there was nothing for any one in my position to do but promise full cooperation in tiding over this crisis, whatever it might involve.

"Had a state of panic occurred in London it could have had only one end—an end which none of us could contemplate."

Baldwin emphasized that the national government is a temporary combination only whose single function is to balance the budget.

"When that is done," he said, "our agreement ends and we part company."

50 FACE COURT ON DRY LAW COUNTS AT WAUSAU

Wausau—(AP)—A parade of alleged prohibition law violators continued here today for arraignment before U. S. Commissioner B. E. Smith. Fifty persons already have entered pleas and there were about 20 more to face the commissioner. Most of the defendants were held on charges of possession of liquor.

The following have been arraigned:

Mrs. Frances Champagne, Town of Weston, Marathon-co held on $200 bond, to appear in 12 days.

Zeleski, town of Weston, $100 bond, hearing Aug. 31; Chris and Gilbert Schmolze, town of Weston, $2,000 bond each, waived preliminary hearings; A. E. Schreiber, Marshfield, $2,000 bond, held after a hearing.

Lawrence Bauer, Town of Lincoln, Lincoln-co, $2,000 bond, hearing Sept. 2; Mathilda, Jesse and Ida Arduer, Town of Maine, Marathon-co, $2,000 bonds each, waived preliminary hearings; Jack Wyro, Town of Weston, $2,000 bond, hearing Sept. 2; Emil Krahn, Town of Wausau, Marathon-co, $2,000 bond, hearing Aug. 31.

PANGBORN AND HERNDON TO ATTEMPT OCEAN HOP

Tokyo—(AP)—Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon, Jr., who recently were fined heavily for flying over and photographing fortified Japanese areas, optimistically completed plans today for the installation of two extra gasoline tanks in their plane.

They hope to attempt a non-stop flight across the north Pacific to Seattle in the event the Japanese Aviation bureau will grant them a flying permit.

The United States Embassy here, in accordance with instructions from Washington, recently applied for a permit in behalf of the fliers and since then has been pressing the aviation bureau, but so far the permit has not been granted.

Pangborn and Herndon, who came to Tokyo from Khabarovsk, Siberia when they abandoned a round-the-world flight, had hoped to make the Tokyo-Seattle attempt during the full moon, but this will be impossible since installation of the tanks will require at least five days.

SENTENCE FATHER OF GIRL MURDER VICTIM

Milwaukee—(AP)—Fred Graef, 59, father of Lillian Graef, whose brutal slaying four years ago is still unsolved, today started a year's sentence on charges of habitual intoxication. He blamed continual brooding over the death of his daughter for his condition.

The death of Lillian, whose body was found beaten and thrust into a culvert in Waukesha-co after she left on a "blind date" with a man known only as Jack, brought additional misfortune to the motherless family. Lillian's sister, Mildred, was soon after the slaying and the father, police said, resorted to drink.

REPORT OUTBREAK OF HOG CHOLERA IN IOWA

Ames, Iowa—(AP)—Dr. C. N. McBryde, head of the experiment station of the federal bureau of animals, husbandry, said today that reports from many parts of Iowa indicate an outbreak of hog cholera that "is the most threatening since the epidemic of 1926."

He said the disease has been spreading rapidly since early in July. From the east half of the state infection has spread in four months. In the first week of July, 162 infections were reported the last week of July.

ANNOUNCE CHANGES IN SALVATION ARMY CORPS

Milwaukee—(AP)—A number of changes in the staff of the Salvation Army corps throughout Wisconsin and Upper Michigan were announced here today by Brigadier Bertram Rodda, divisional commander.

Capt. Ralph Norris, Milwaukee, is transferred to Two Rivers; Capt. Olsen Torgerson, Army Lake, succeeds Capt. Norris at Milwaukee; Lieut. Thelma Bass, Milwaukee, goes to Calumet, Mich. and is succeeded by Lieut. Everall Ulbrich, Army Lake, Lake.

New York—(AP)—How to make a baby cry when you have no baby—it's a problem that is driving four strong men to the verge of tears.

A duck quacker, played with certain manual modifications, is the best the National Broadcasting company's "sound effects department" has been able to do so far. It sounds pretty good over the air, but the four young men in the department, stern realists always, fear it doesn't sound good enough.

Hence the endless quest and multiple experiments of the past few months, all leading to the despairing conclusion that there probably isn't any radio sound in the world just like a caterwauling youngster. Some have suggested the department add a real baby and command him to its effects but the suggestion was vetoed.

"The noisiest room in the world" is what they call the tiny laboratory on Fifth Avenue where the department prepares its noises. The building collapses, thunder, steamboat whistles, rainstorms and gunfire radio fans have heard in the last six or seven years are there—ready to burst in clamor again at a moment's notice.

Ray Kelly, director of noise, is particularly proud of his lion. It has a history. It is the same lion that roared backstage at the Broadway premiere of the motion picture Theodore Roosevelt took on his famous trip to South America. A funny-looking lion it is, consisting as it does of a whiskey keg topped with a stretched skin, through which a twisted cord protrudes. Pull on the cord and even a veteran jungle hunter is apt to look around for his gun.

Squash a peach basket in your hands and radio listeners think a house is collapsing. A wicker waste basket hugged by a brawny lad sounds like the squeak of a camel's hump. It takes some men to get a train out of station; one to stop the whistles, another the steam (which looks like a washboard agitated by a wire fall) and a third to make the sound of the wheels, which consist of furniture rollers rotated on a sounding board.

TWO MONROE, MICH., BANKS FAIL TO OPEN

Monroe, Mich.—(AP)—Two Monroe banks, the Damsard State bank and the Monroe State savings bank, did not open for business today. A desire to conserve resources threatened by a series of withdrawals that followed the recent closing of a number of Toledo banks was given as the reason for the suspensions.

In statements of condition July 1 last, the Damsard bank listed resources of $2,739,716 and deposits of $2,447,164. The Monroe State Savings bank listed resources of $2,433,164. The Monroe State Savings bank listed resources of $2,433,783 and deposits of $1,881,605.

Radio Sound Experts Are Faced With Many Problems

BY RAYMOND CROWLEY

New York—(AP)—How to make a baby cry when you have no baby—it's a problem that is driving four strong men to the verge of tears.

A duck quacker, played with certain manual modifications, is the best the National Broadcasting company's "sound effects department" has been able to do so far. It sounds pretty good over the air, but the four young men in the department, stern realists always, fear it doesn't sound good enough.

Hence the endless quest and multiple experiments of the past few months, all leading to the despairing conclusion that there probably isn't any radio sound in the world just like a caterwauling youngster. Some have suggested the department add a real baby and command him to its effects but the suggestion was vetoed.

"The noisiest room in the world" is what they call the tiny laboratory on Fifth Avenue where the department prepares its noises. The building collapses, thunder, steamboat whistles, rainstorms and gunfire radio fans have heard in the last six or seven years are there—ready to burst in clamor again at a moment's notice.

Ray Kelly, director of noise, is particularly proud of his lion. It has a history. It is the same lion that roared backstage at the Broadway premiere of the motion picture Theodore Roosevelt took on his famous trip to South America. A funny-looking lion it is, consisting as it does of a whiskey keg topped with a stretched skin, through which a twisted cord protrudes. Pull on the cord and even a veteran jungle hunter is apt to look around for his gun.

Squash a peach basket in your hands and radio listeners think a house is collapsing. A wicker waste basket hugged by a brawny lad sounds like the squeak of a camel's hump. It takes some men to get a train out of station; one to stop the whistles, another the steam (which looks like a washboard agitated by a wire fall) and a third to make the sound of the wheels, which consist of furniture rollers rotated on a sounding board.

The sound experts stick to the real thing if they can. For instance, they make the sound of a door closing by closing a door, although a squeaky door is a base fiddle how drawn across the edge of a card-board box.

They like to tell about sound effects men in the movies who once tried to get the noise of water pouring out of a barrel. The experts tried everything from rolling peas on oiled paper to a complicated surf machine. Finally a mere underling had a bright idea: "Let's pour water out of a barrel," he said. That worked.

The sound man's life is no snap. They get requisitions for such things as "the sound of soap being silted" and "the lurch of an airplane in flight."

They thought those were the limit, until one day Happy Sax, one of the experts, entered the laboratory to find Director Kelly fainting away. In his hand was a requisition, saying: "Dear Mr. Kelly. Please make us the sound of snow falling."

PASTOR SCORES USE OF SOCIALS FOR FINANCING

Appleton Minister Objects to Charging Admission for Church Programs

Special to Post-Crescent

Forest Junction — Opposition to suppers, socials, plays and similar activities as a means of financing a church program was expressed here Thursday afternoon at the opening session of the annual convention of the Appleton district Evangelical league of Christian Endeavor and Sunday school. The Rev. J. G. Biel, pastor of Neenah and the Rev. Peter Kutziaf of Berlin opened the discussion with addresses on "Balancing the Program of the Church with its Finances." While not objecting to occasional banquets or dramatic activities for social usefulness, their repeated use for financial reasons was severely criticized.

Adhering to the rule of the Evangelical church that pews in the church shall always be free, the Rev. J. H. Blum of Appleton expressed himself opposed to entertainment features in churches for which admission is charged. When references were made in the discussion on finances to the appearance of the Rev. William A. (Billy) Sunday, evangelist, at the Green-co fair at Monroe last Sunday, the Rev. Blum, who was stationed at Monroe when the Sunday fair was being arranged, related his attempts to oppose it, and censured the evangelist for his failure to include Sabbath desecration as one of the evils in this country when addressing his Lord's Day audience, at the fair.

Applications for employment on the West Forest Junction overhead are still being received by the unemployment division of the state industrial commission. In a letter to the town clerk here this week, asking that official to register men who may be seeking employment on that project, it was stated that on account of the delay in getting started many of the men who had registered for the job at Kaukauna last April had taken employment elsewhere.

When work started a little over a week ago, the overseer was confronted by a shortage of help. Just now, all available places have been filled, but more men will be needed in about a week, the overseer stated Thursday.

TRUCK DRIVER INJURES FOOT AT GRAVEL PIT

STOCKBRIDGE MAN IN THRESHING MISHAP

Norbert Tillmann Loses Finger Trying to Save Himself from Falling

Special to Post-Crescent

Stockbridge — Norbert Tillmann suffered the loss of a finger on his right hand Tuesday while helping thresh on the Henry Schobe farm, south of Stockbridge. Mr. Tillmann, who was up in the roof of the barn, stepped out too near the edge of the bundles of grain and the bundles started to slip. In an effort to save himself, he reached for a rafter in the top of the barn and his ring caught on a nail tearing the finger off at the joint.

His May two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Westphal, admitted to an operation for the removal of her tonsils at St. Elizabeth's Hospital at Appleton on Wednesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory Westenberg have completed the remodeling of their home on North Military-st. The interior of the house has been remodeled and redecorated and a new porch has been added.

Among those from Stockbridge who have made trips to Northern Wisconsin after Harry Schobe, are: Mr. Oscar Hilling, daughter, Miss Carol, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Parsons, and children, Mr. George Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Popper, Mrs. Oscar Schoen and Mrs. Marla Schoen, Mrs. Al at Kolpack and Mrs. Roger Pinard.

ANNOUNCE NEW FINANCE PLAN NEXT MONDAY

Bankers Await Government Word About Money-Raising System

By CARLTON A. SHIVELY
Copyright, 1931, by Cons. Press
Wall Street, New York (CFA)

Next Monday the treasury will announce the form of its September tax date financing. It gave notice last week that new loans of some sort would be made to meet the maturities on that date.

Up to now there has been some discussion among bankers and other government security dealers as to the probability of a long-term issue at this time. It is taken for granted that the government will borrow on long-term bonds before the end of the year, in order to reduce the huge and growing volume of floating short-dated debt, but the bonds were expected in December. The only good reason for hurrying such an issue would be the expectation that money market conditions will be more favorable next month than later on.

Wall Street is inclined to compromise on a short-term and a long-term issue for September, and looks for some of both. At the end of this month the market will be asked for tenders on another discount bill issue, to raise fresh money for treasury expenditures.

To Increase Funds
This will increase the amount of money in addition to refunding raises in August to $80,000,000 and will leave the treasury with approximately $520,000,000 of outstanding discount bills in eight issues, maturing at various dates between Sept. 30 and Nov. 30.

Treasury certificates maturing Sept. 15 total $634,000,000, including $334,000,000 of 2-3 per cents and $300,000,000 of 1-1/2 per cents. Dec. 15 maturities aggregate $894,000,000, of which $542,000,000 are 1-1/2 per cent certificates and $352,000,000 are the series C 3-1/2 per cent notes on which notice of call was given last June. The latter issue in particular, being itself one of moderate life, was expected to be replaced by a long-term bond. The total of bills, notes and certificates of indebtedness which the treasury will have to refund in the next 3-1/2 months is thus $2,148,000,000.

The only maturity scheduled for next year is $624,000,000 of certificates on March 15. All other tax dates are open, but the June 15 date may be seized for calling of the $336,000,000 first liberty 3-1/2 per cents, and possibly the $1,392,000,000 of first liberty 3-1/2 per cents. Treasury bonds of earliest maturity, 1940

GALE COLLEGE GRADS PLAN 2-DAY REUNION

Galesville—(P)—The second annual homecoming and reunion of graduates of Gale college will be held here Sept. 26 and 27.

Adolph Daley, McFarland, chairman of the event, has announced that the entertainment will include a banquet for guests and students and a baseball game between college and alumni teams. Divine worship will be held at the college chapel on Sept. 26.

Officers of the alumni group are Herman Gimmeslad, Orfordville, president; the Rev. K. M. Urberg, Blair, vice president; Mrs. Vilas Suttie, Ettrick, secretary; and Margaret Scarseth, Galesville, treasurer.

FUNNY CARDS

Indianapolis — Patrolman Elza Carter dropped into an acquaintance's for a game of poker. A few drinks were served. Carter grew boisterous and while he was playing poker one of the other players noticed as he put his hand down that he held two eights of diamonds. A near riot followed. Police were called in and when Carter appeared in court he drew a suspension.

optional date, are selling on a basis of about 3.02 per cent.

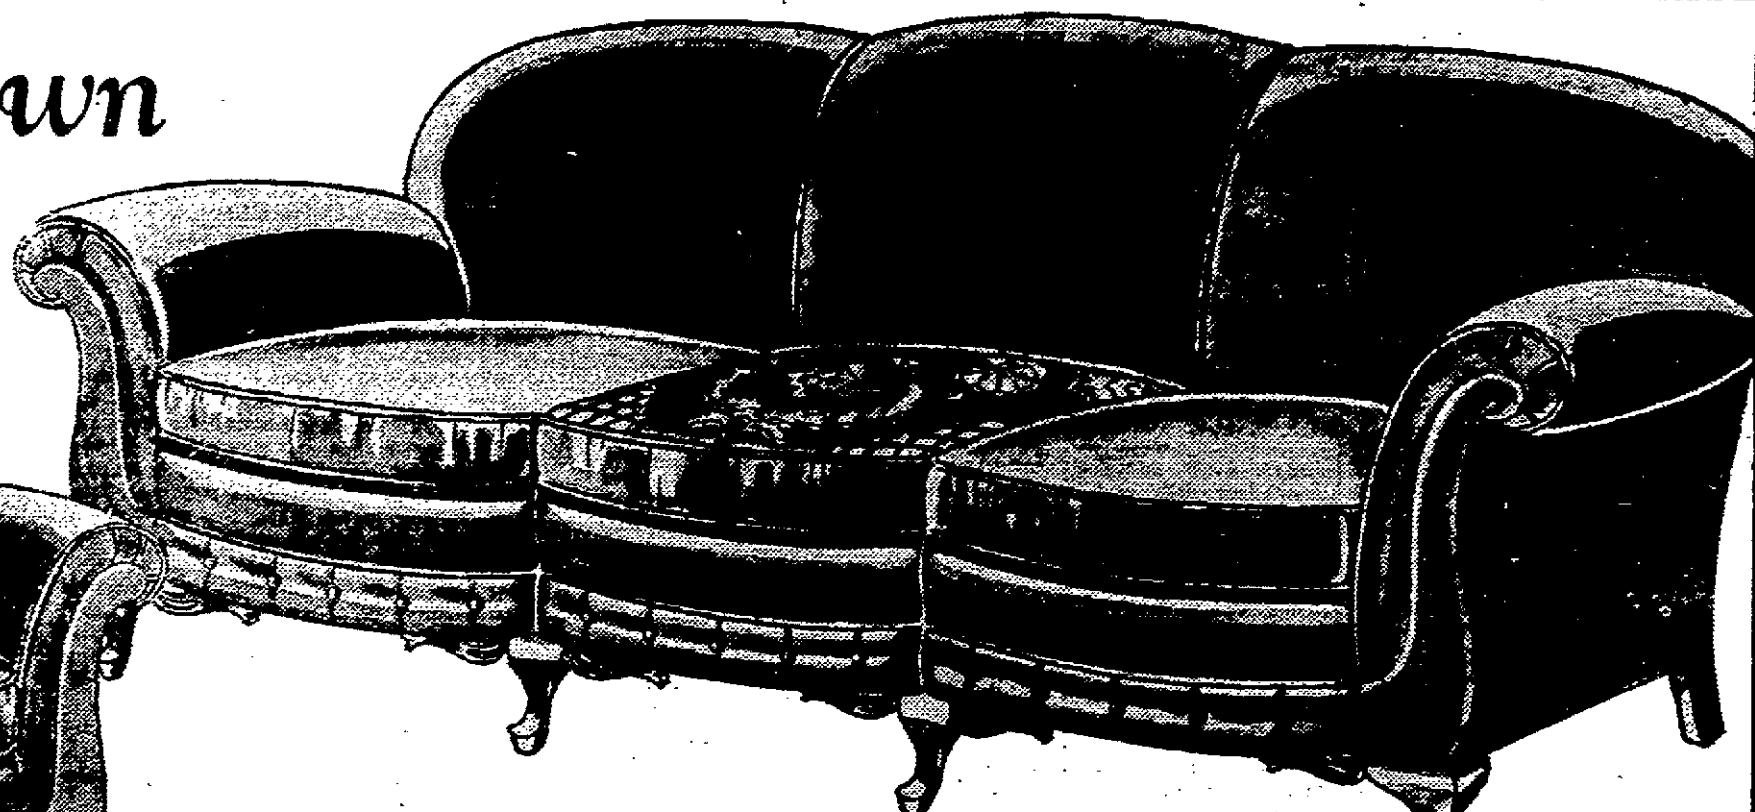

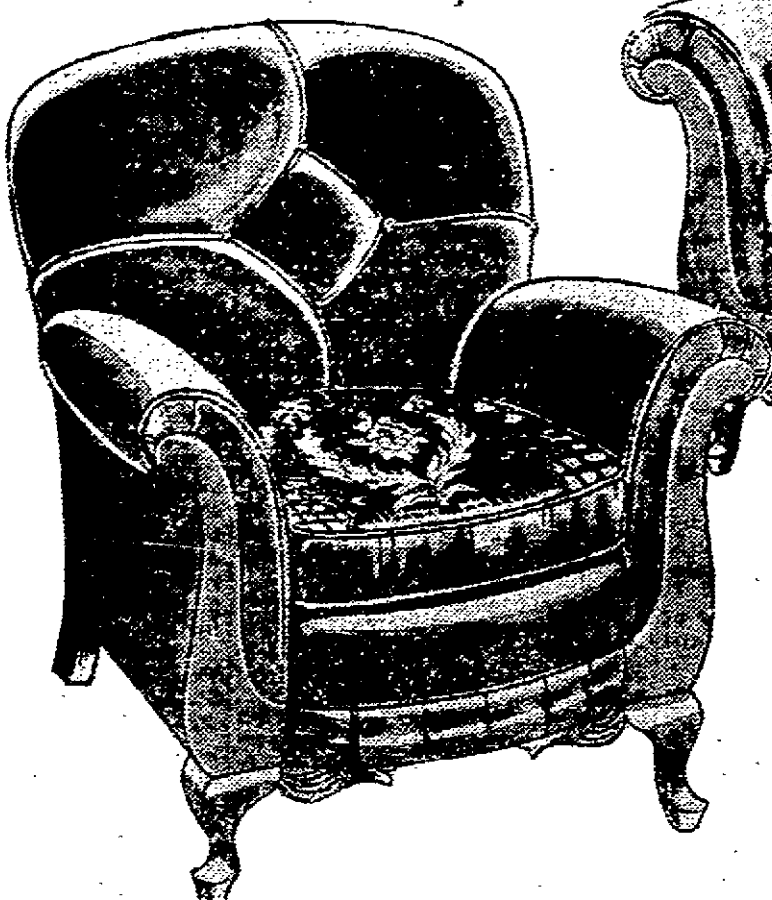

Make Guesses
Guesses on terms of a new bond issue which might be offered next Monday, to be dated Sept. 15, favor a 3-1/2 per cent coupon, the same as that for the last issue, with the offering price probably at a slight premium above par.

Refunding about $2,000,000,000 of bills and certificates will mean transfer of what are at present largely bank credits given the treasury to long-term credit. Much of the latter may be absorbed by the banks, but they will use it only in lieu of better employment for their funds. In general, a long-term government issue absorbs from the capital market funds which otherwise would go into industry. This is an unfavorable aspect of the present situation, at home and abroad.

The matter will not end here with mere refunding of short-term debt. The treasury is faced with another large deficit, probably a billion or so, for the current fiscal year, which scarcely can be made good by greater taxation in view of depressed business conditions and the unwillingness of either political party to increase tax rates in those directions whence more revenue might be obtained. Nor is the prospect for reduced expenditures encouraging, with agitation for unemployment relief, soldiers' bonuses, greater public works' expenditures, and other schemes designed to inflate currency circulation. The capital market, in other words, probably will have to put up another billion of new money in the next year to keep the government's books in balance. Wall Street regards this as largely a talking from productive to give to non-productive enterprise, something which tends to prolong hard times.

Your Birthday

"VIRGO"
If August 29th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 1:45 a. m. to 9 a. m. from 3 p. m. to 4:35 p. m. and from 10 p. m. to 11 p. m. The danger periods are from noon to 2:30 p. m. and from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m.

Astrological tendencies for August 29th: propitious time for the handling of property, and the beginning of new undertakings. Precautionary measures should be taken for health troubles, especially amongst very young people. Journalists and literary people will be in luck.

Children born on this August 29th will have reserved, studious and self-contained natures. They will have strong emotions, and are very good self-control. They will have comprehensive minds, wide interests and keen ambitions.

Born on August 29th, you are a born leader, forceful, energetic and with great organizing ability, a faith to remove mountains, and a practice to let made hills be, you usually land successfully on your feet in any undertaking. You are obsessed with an innocent, innocuous vanity, and you accept praise by the bushel. You are willing, however, to applaud as you would yourself be praised, and you are generous and fair to your associates. You are much preoccupied with money, and in this respect are almost a hoarder and grubber.

In the home, if you be a man, you are a tyrant of your own hearth, mild as long as not opposed. As a father or mother, you will try to dominate the lives of your children to a harmful extent.

Your passions are deep down and burning, and had better be left alone. As you grow older, you will learn to conquer your temper, and you will have a much more placid nature. Socially, you are amusing and alive, and you will always have a legion of friends. You have a passion for machinery although it may only be expressed in some hobby, such as motoring. You need to lead an active life, both for the sake of your health, and your restless mind.

CHICAGO MEN HAVE OWN GARDEN CLUB

Amateurs Will Hold Annual Show at Garfield Park Conservatory

Chicago — It is not a new excuse that 119 Chicago men other when they are tardy at the dinner table:

"Sorry, dear, I was tending the dianthus baratus."

Husbandry is an ancient calling, yet this little group of Chicagoans claimed until quite recent days to be unique in the modern city-living world.

The hundred and ten comprise the Men's Garden Club of Chicago, exclusively male in membership. Chicago has its famous Apollo club, formed by business men who loved music and singing its Business Men's Art club, with its own annulet for the nurture of art, its own exhibits in the galleries. In the Men's Garden club are 119 tired business men who would rather sprinkle the Irish, like the gladioli and bed down the sweet William than a round of golf or come to dinner on time.

The members, recruited from every line of business endeavor, meet regularly to swap tales of their successes with strange, exotic species of flora and their development of new hybrids. Saturday they will open their fall exhibition at the Garfield Park conservatory, one of the world's largest, and there are certain divisions in which entries are forbidden if there exists the shadow of suspicion that a feminine hand has so much as wielded a pinkie.

The garden amateurs all display fruits and vegetables as well as flowers and shrubs. Each is a specialist in some time.

Its members say the club, now four years old, was the only men's garden group in existence until the recent formation of similar clubs in Aurora, Ill., and Terre Haute, Ind.

All Stars Will Meet Wausau, Green Bay Teams Over Weekend

IRVING YANKS HERE SATURDAY, BAYS ON SUNDAY

Mike Michalske and Johnny Blood to Be With Green Bay Club

TWO inter-city softball games which will give Appleton fans a chance to see some of the fastest ball played in the valley this season have been scheduled for Tomorrow's All Star aggregation Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning.

Appleton's entry in the state softball tournament to be held at Oshkosh Sept. 5 and 6, the Stars have arranged the two games to give them the best tests of the season.

At 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon at Brandt's park the Stars will clash with the Irving Yanks of Wausau, the aggregation that placed second to the Oshkosh Fluors in a diamond ball tournament at Wausau a week or so ago. The team has won 28 games from northern Wisconsin teams and holds the Wausau City championship.

Beaten by Stars, 1-0. About two weeks ago the Stars and Wausau clashed with the Yanks, Emmert Mortell pitching a no-run no-hit game and the Stars winning by a score of 1 and 0. The Stars connected for but three hits, the only run being a circuit clout by Bill Feorster.

Mortell will toss his fast ball at the Yanks and Tommy Ryan will do the catching. For the Yanks, Peck or Nickle, the latter a left hander, will do the hurling.

Sunday morning the Green Bay Colleagues again will invade Appleton but reports are they will have Mike Michalske of Packer grid fame and that famous "vagabond half-back", Johnny Blood, with them. And they should be attractions in themselves.

Mike is slated to do the hurling if the Yanks win. Blood will pitch with the daisies in left field.

Christman, a quarterback for Notre Dame last season, also plays with the squad. The game is scheduled to begin at 10:15 at Roosevelt school diamond.

Ray Crane will hurl for the Stars and Tommy Ryan will do the catching. A small collection will be taken up at each of the weekend games to help pay a few odd bills the Stars will contract while at the state tourney. The last time the Stars were here Tommy Ryan pitched the team to a 12 and 6 victory.

THE football trenches from a bird's-eye viewpoint look pretty much the same as usual. But in the dugouts behind the lines are several new commanders-in-chief, some of them issuing official orders on their own for the first time this fall.

Along the Atlantic coast, Eddie Casey is the new boss at Harvard, taking the place which Arnold Horween resigned last year. Al Wittmer has the spot Bill Ripper occupied so long at Princeton. Edgar E. (Rip) Miller, a "kicker" in the lineup of the "Four Horsemen," is chief navigator of the Navy forces. Boss of de-mphasized Pennsylvania is Harvey Harman. And directing the Mountaineers at West Virginia is Earl

LAWYERS WALLOP DOCTORS IN BIG GOLF MATCH, 28-7

Medics No Match for Sharp Shooting Barristers; Derber Gets 77

APPLETON Doctors and one from Dale and another from Kaukauna aren't saying much about their golf ability today for yesterday afternoon they played the Lawyers in that big match and took a most terrific wallop. The score was 28 and 7, the Medics never having a chance to win.

The only Doctors to win points were Dr. McGrath, Dr. Mielke, Dr. Brooks and Dr. Gallagher. Even Dr. "Whitman" Hegner was forced to bow to the sharp shooting of Gordon Derber, one of the Lawyers' ace. Derber hit a 77 while Hegner was talked out of an even par and took a magnificent 86.

The scoring follows:

George K. Vitense, professional at Butte des Morts golf course Thursday mailed his entry blank to officers of the Wisconsin state open golf tourney which will be held in Milwaukee, Monday and Tuesday.

Vitense is seeking Ken Dickinson, one time amateur champ, as his partner in the pro amateur meet which will be played Sunday. The tournament is over the Milwaukee course.

Vitense recently set a new course record for the first nine holes at Butte des Morts turning in a 31 to break the old record of 32. The score was made despite a three putt green on the eighth hole where Vitense took a five. His card:

Par	444	334	344-35
Vitense	334	325	353-31

Not only is Vitense cracking par around Butte des Morts but Monday, George's day off he went down to Nakoma at Madison and tied the course record with a 69. Going out Vitense rolled up a 31 compared to par 34 and coming in took a 38 one over par 37. Far for the course is 71 and George reported 63. A missed 13 inch putt cost him a new record.

Cub Bucks and Gene Pierce, the former of Neenah and the latter of Menasha will battle for the president's cup at Butte des Morts. Buck went into the finals by beating Dan Courtney one up and Pierce defeated George Lange, 4 and 2.

The Club championship match finds R. A. McGowan winner in the upper bracket with a one up win over Tom McKenney. In the lower bracket Paul Hackbert went into the finals beating E. C. Biffert one up. McGowan and Hackbert will clash in the final match within the week.

J. N. Fisher is the only player in "B" fight who has advanced to the final round. His last match was against Burt Manser. Fisher won 2 and 2.

GEORGE LABORDE TO PLAY IN OSHKOSH MEET

Oshkosh - With a shining new cup as the prize trophy, leading tennis players of Wisconsin will be seen in action here on the asphalt courts of the Oshkosh Tennis club, Aug. 29 and 30, in the eighth annual singles tournament for the Fox river valley championship.

"Bob" McMiller annexed the valley laurels in 1930, and his victory was the third achieved by him in valley competition, he was permitted to keep the cup as a permanent possession.

As a result, there will be a new trophy this weekend, waiting for a champion to come and claim it. George Laborde, Appleton runnerup in 1930, is expected to be one of the chief contenders.

The valley singles tourney is tormented by the United States Lawn Tennis association, but is sponsored by the Oshkosh Tennis club under the auspices of the Wisconsin State Tennis association.

Dallas, Tex., - (AP) - Lou Garland, right hand pitcher, and Ralph Erickson, southpaw hurler, have been sold to the Chicago White Sox by Dallas of the Texas league.

Garland and Eric were to the White Sox for $15,000 each, immediate delivery being demanded in order that they may be on hand to participate in the

FRIDAY NIGHT BAN IS LIFTED BY COMMITTEE

Players Permitted to Enter During Days of Qualifying Round

APPLETON golfers will be given every possible opportunity to enter the second annual city-wide golf tournament, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, according to plans completed Friday by the general committee in charge. Finding that several local linksmen would like to enter the meet will be out of the city on vacation until the weekend, a change was made in the closing date for registrations.

Friday evening was to be the closing time but it was decided that players could register both Saturday and Sunday at the municipal course only. As these are the days of the qualifying round, the golfer must register at the course and go out and play his qualifying round immediately.

Qualifiers will be divided into five flights of 16 players each in the entry list warrants, with the pairing being made by the play committee.

PROCLAMATION

To the Golfers of Appleton: The second city-wide golf tournament sponsored by the Appleton Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be conducted Aug. 29 to Sept. 7.

We endorse this tournament, and urge every Appleton golfer, as an expression of civic and golf interest, to participate in it.

The municipal golf course is a civic enterprise, and this tournament, in encouraging the use of the course by and for, the citizens of Appleton, is worthy of the best support.

A seven run rally in the ninth inning that sent Forest Junction fans home in the seventh heaven of baseball joy and resulted in a 12 and 11 victory for the Junction nine over Appleton Pure Milk, also sent the Milk to a tie for first place with Darboy club. The defeat was the third this season for the Milk.

A home run by Dorschner with the sacks loaded accounted for most of the damage. H. DeWerd doubled to drive in the winning run. Other games last week saw Darboy beat Hollandtown 5 and 4, and Wrightstown humble Greenleaf 5 to 4.

Play Here Sunday

Sunday afternoon Appleton Pure Milk play Greenleaf at Erb park. Darboy will seek to keep pace with the Milk by taking a game from Wrightstown, and Hollandtown will seek a victory at Forest Junction.

Junction team recently was strengthened by addition of several Appleton baseballers.

VALLEY COACHES ALL ARE RETURNING

No Changes Made This Year in High School Grid, Cage Mentors

For the first time in many years coaching activities in football and basketball in the Fox River Valley conference will get under way with the opening of school in September without a single change among the eight member schools of those who guided the teams through these two major sports during the school year of 1930-31. A checkup of the schools reveals such to be the case.

And for the first time since the formation of the conference eleven years ago a school other than East or West Green Bay will be defending the conference football crown. That school will be Lincoln high, Manitowish, as a result of Coach Gordon White's squad annexing the football title for the first time in the history of the school.

Rules of the Fox River Valley conference provide that active football coaching cannot get under way until school opens, which happens to be Tuesday, Sept. 8. But at most of the schools the candidates for the football squad will report next week and be equipped with football practice togs so that they will be all set to swing into action at the first regular practice the night of the first day of school.

The following is the coaching roster for football in the Valley conference this year:

Sheboygan—A. C. Abendroth.
East Green Bay—Louis E. Means.
West Green Bay—Maurice White.
Manitowish—Fritz Eumbert.
Appleton—Joe E. Shields.
Oshkosh—Sam Hill.
Fond du Lac—Gordon Baker.
Manitowish—Gordon Winder.

Not only is the football coaching force intact from last year in the conference but the same mentors as last season will have charge of basketball in the eight schools. Four of the schools East and West Green Bay, Sheboygan and Appleton, have the same coaches for basketball that handle football. At Manitowish Rex John will direct basketball, Ed Fruth will be in charge at Fond du Lac, M. Meyer at Marinette, while at Oshkosh Coach Nussbaum will again be in charge.

Last year Appleton and Oshkosh fought for the conference basketball title.

city series with the Chicago Cubs. He will leave Dallas Saturday.

Erickson, who has been on option all season to Shreveport, was chosen by the Sox as their pick of the Dallas club's players for $10,000. They had on option to this effect on the steers. Erickson will report next spring.

JUNIOR ALL-STARS ARE WALLOPED BY KLOEHNS

The Kloeish Oakland Pontiac took the Junior All Stars into camp by the score of 15 to 6 at Wilson school grounds last Night. The batsmen for the Pontiacs were Van Wyk and Eggert, for the All Stars Mitchell and Manier.

Van Wyk allowed four hits the first being in the third inning, while the Oakland collected 16 hits off Mitchell.

WHITE SOX BUY TWO PLAYERS FROM DALLAS

Dallas, Tex., - (AP) - Lou Garland, right hand pitcher, and Ralph Erickson, southpaw hurler, have been sold to the Chicago White Sox by Dallas of the Texas league.

Garland and Eric were to the White Sox for $15,000 each, immediate delivery being demanded in order that they may be on hand to participate in the

Lawrence Faces Leanest Grid Season In History

W HAT appears to be one of the leanest seasons in the history of Lawrence college football teams will get started here Sept. 15, according to announcement by college authorities a few days ago. Forty candidates whose ability is known to have been asked to report on the first day. Six of them are letter men, one is reported as not planning to enter Lawrence and a second is said to have decided not to play, leaving but four "L" men available.

The letter men asked to report are Merlin Feind, Jefferson; Tommy Ryan, Appleton; both half backs; Lardner Coffey, St. Paul and Herbert Vander Bloemen, De Pere. Two other lettermen invited to report are Harold Peters, Kaukauna, who it is said will not return to school; and Ferdinand Rankin, Appleton, who has decided to forsake football this year.

Three other letter men, Capt. Norbert Pfeifferle, Appleton, Jake Hovda, Kaukauna, and Louis Schler, Milwaukee, are not in good graces scholastically and probably will be ineligible.

Tough For Clapp

The situation gives indications of being a mighty tough one for Coach Percy Clapp, formerly of Milwaukee state teachers college, who will be starting his first year here. Last spring Clapp held a week's spring drills that proved only the lack of material, if anything, Clapp will be assisted by Bill Schroeder, last year's Milwaukee normal grid captain and all state quarterback.

Of the freshmen and 1931 reserves being asked to report, there is only a handful of natural football men, all untied in Big Four and Midwest competition. Paul McKahn, Wausau, Milton Kuehler, Sheboygan, Richard Hartman, Janesville, Bernard Fahres, Sheboygan, and Robert Grogan of Kaukauna, are looked on as the best of the sophomores.

Others being asked to report are Donald Farrish, Wisconsin Rapids; Roy Manser, Appleton; Charles Culmer, Duluth, Minn.; Clement Steidl, Robert Elias, and Mike Gochmair all of Appleton; Myles MacMillan, Gladstone, Mich.; Harris Venema, Menominee, Mich.; Lawrence Oosterhaus, Appleton.

John Brauer, Wisconsin Rapids; Ward Roselush, Port Edwards; James Vedder, Marshfield; Ralph Scott, DePere; Henry Mattson, Iron Mountain, Mich.; Roger Russell, Appleton; William Wesse, Marquette; Francis Thompson, Appleton; Melvin Stattengren, Riverside, Ill.; Morris Warzink, Merrill; Bennie Rafoth, Appleton; Clark Norfoll, Ludington, Mich.; William Foote, Appleton; Chester Jacobson, DePere; Charles Kersten, Elgin, Ill.; Edward Colburn, Hiles; Francis Holden, Kenosha;

SOCIAL NOTE: AUGGIE ENTERTAINS FOR FORDS

August Brandt last night entertained for the August Brandt company softball team at a dinner at Hotel Appleton. The softballers are the city industrial champions, having topped the National league softball title and then beat the Fox River Paper for the city title.

Among the guests were Charles LeMere, National league umpire and Eddie Steward, National league president. Reffke, Ford short stop, topped the eating honors and Steward the talking honors.

Carroll is an innovation this fall and an effort by the colleges to capitalize on the rivalry between the two schools. Working in the assumption that the Carroll game draws a large crowd at Appleton and the Lawrence game draws well at Carroll the schools have agreed to the present arrangement to make the most of the condition. If successful, indications are all the Big Four schools will play home and home games next year.

The second game with Carroll at Waukesha, is scheduled for Nov. 7 and on Nov. 14 the season will close with Carleton college at Appleton. Four of the games will count in Big Four conference standings, three in the Midwest conference.

ORANGE GRID SQUAD MEETS TOMORROW

Twenty High School Footballers Will Receive Suits, Equipment

MORE than 20 Appleton high school football aspirants have been asked by Coach Joseph R. Shields to report at the high school at 1:15 Saturday afternoon to receive equipment preparatory to opening of the 1931 grid season.

Most of the youths reporting are lettermen or fellows who showed fairly well last season. The first informal drill will be held at the Third ward practice field, W. Spencer-st and S. Outagamie-st, from 2 to 4 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Boys asked to report for uniforms are Emmett Moriell and Joe Verrier, co-captains, Melvin Krohn, Conny Frank, Ernest Ruppel, Victor Salm, Dave Dietrich, Jim Keller, Walter Beck, Walter Kain, Lawrence Weber, Jack Bowers, Bob Sellers.

Kenneth Kriebel, Bill Peotter, Justin Tillman, Robert Merrifield, Milton Schultz, Joe Burke, Cuno Keller, Frank Burton, Carlton Wahl, and Frank Jacobs.

Just a handful of lettermen is among the group called and practically all are basketball men. The crying need of the Orange this season will be linemen and reserves. However, the problem is one which faced Coach Shields last season and therefore is not new. So far as Shields knows, the junior high schools are sending nothing in the way of griders, in the incoming sophomore class.

Two Home Games
Only two home games are on the high school schedule this fall and only one of them is a conference game. The season opens with Stevens Point Saturday, Sept. 19. The other home game will be East Green Bay here on Sept. 26.

The complete Orange schedule follows:
Sept. 19—Stevens Point here.
Sept. 26—East Green Bay here.
Oct. 3—At West Green Bay.
Oct. 10—At Fond du Lac.
Oct. 17—At Manitowish.
Oct. 24—At Sheboygan.
Nov. 5—At Marinette.
Nov. 12—At Oshkosh.

The shortage in home games is brought about by the fact Lawrence college plays four home games and Whiting field therefore is not available for high school games. The Fond du Lac and Sheboygan games originally were scheduled here but had to be changed because the Vikings will be showing.

BROWNS BEATEN BY INDIANS; COFFMAN POUNDED FROM HILL

Cubs Get Eight Runs in One Inning to Divide With Pirates

BY GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer
DICK COFFMAN, ambitious young right-hander of the St. Louis Browns, stopped Lefty Grove last Sunday when Connie Mack's star needed only one more victory to set an American League mark for consecutive victories. It is said that what happened to Coffman his next time out, which was yesterday.

Facing the Cleveland Indians, the Alabamian lasted two innings in which he was hammered for eight hits and six runs and generally man-handled. Up to that time, he had started, finished and won four straight games, two of them shut-outs. Within that time the Browns staff had been able to win only three games between them, which gives an idea how well Dick was going. But he had to go and beat Lefty Grove.

As a result of their explosive start at Coffman's expense, the Indians went on to win without half trying, 11 to 1. Wes Ferrell, who has recovered fully from the effects of his no-hit, no-run game earlier in the year against the same Browns, gave up only four hits, two of them by Irving Burns. He also delivered two hits drove in three runs and scored twice. Earl Averill hit his twenty-eighth home run of the year in the second inning with two on base.

Tigers Pound Sox
In the day's only other American league game, the Detroit Tigers pounded five Chicago White Sox pitchers for 13 hits and a 9 to 4 victory. Stone and Richardson led the assault, each with three hits. Vic Sorrell went the distance for the winners.

Pinkney Whitner, Phillie third baseman, was the day's hero in the National league. Coming up in the eighth inning with the score tied, he planted one of Koip's offerings in the left field bleachers to defeat the Cincinnati Reds, 6 to 5. Estel Crabtree had hit one for the Reds in the sixth with one on.

The Chicago Cubs produced one of the year's prize rallies to divide a Coubheader with Pittsburgh. After losing the first 3 to 2, when Glenn Spencer set them down with four hits, they came back to score eight runs in the eighth inning of the nightcap and win it, 11 to 4. Brame paved the way for his downfall by walking English to open the eighth. The next seven Cubs hit safely before Osborn managed to quell the uprising. English had a perfect day, with two singles, a double, a triple, and a walk in the two games.

Four other National league clubs were not scheduled.

Add Warren, whose boxing exploits have carried him up and down the ladder the past two years, will desert the ring temporarily to become boxing coach at the University of North Carolina.

Valley Pitchers Have Stopped Loop's Clubbers

LEADING home run hitters in the Valley have haven't been connecting of late and there were no changes among the topnochers with Freddie Hackbarth, Kimberty, setting the pace.

Hirbernik of Wisconsin Rapids, bolstered his lead in the triple production by whaling out a pair of three baggers in last Sunday's Shawano game. Egbert, Appleton; Tony Hoffman, Shawano, and Les Smith, Kaukauna are tied in the 2-base hit race with seven apiece.

The extra base hitters are as follows:

HOME RUNS
Hackbarth, Kimberty 5, Tormow, Appleton 4, Les Smith, Kaukauna 4, Hirbernik, Wisconsin Rapids 4, Brandt, Wisconsin Rapids 4, Smith.

KANSAS CITY BLUES TAKE SECOND PLACE IN A. A. FLAG CHASE

Milwaukee Plays Comical Ball and Loses Third Straight Game

BY WILLIAM WEEKES
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO — (AP)—From eighth place to second in a little more than a month is the accomplishment of Dutch Zwilling and his Kansas City Blues.

On July 15 the Blues, a staggering, disorganized band, were at the bottom of the American association. About that time Zwilling started sorting out his talent, getting rid of players and adding new ones. The results have been something.

Yesterday the Blues took sole possession for the day at least—of second place by whipping Toledo, 4 to 2, while Indianapolis was losing to the leading St. Paul Apostles. Pete Donohue held the Mud Hens to nine scattered blows, while the Blues bunched most of their 19 off Lefty Boehman for three runs in the second. The victory gave Kansas City a clean sweep in the four game series.

John Murphy held the Indians to six hits, while the rest of the Saints hopped onto Bill Burwell for four runs in the seventh to clinch a 5 to 2 decision. The big batting was Anderson's fourteen-run homer of the season, which accounted for three St. Paul runs. The victory was Murphy's seventh in a row and fourteenth of the season.

Milwaukee played some more comical baseball and Columbus took the series final, 9 to 6. The Brewers out-hit the victors, 15 to 12, but 15 men were left standing on the bases, and a long fly by Hinkle with two men on in the second inning, squirted from Ted Gullie's glove into the bleachers for a home run. Fred Stely, Brewer southpaw, who either is an extremely good pitcher or a very bad one, was batted out in the second inning.

Minneapolis managed to rake in one game of its series with Louisville, taking the final, 12 to 3. Dutch Henry pitched well enough to account for his nineteenth victory of the season, and Griffin collected two home runs for the Millers. Guy Williams and Roy Wilkinson, Louisville hurlers, were thumped for 19 hits.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Wesley Ferrell, Indians — Held Browns to four hits and fanned nine to win his seventeenth victory of season, 11-1.

Pinkney Whitner, Phillies — Hit home run with score tied in eighth to beat Reds 6 to 5.

Vic Sorrell, Tigers—Outpitched five Chicago hurlers to beat White Sox 9-4.

Glenn Spencer, Pirates, and Woody English, Cubs—Former held Cubs to four hits to win first game; latter made four straight hits and scored twice to lead Chicago at a tack that won second 11-4.

A 14-year-old girl, the youngest ever to participate in the long distance swim, was among those who passed the physical examination for today's race. She is Helen Petrijan of Portland, Ore.

Lake Ontario water has been warmer than usual this year, promising better conditions for the swimmers, but cool weather in the last few days has lowered the temperature slightly.

WOMEN'S CHAMPION BEATEN AT EXMOOR

Mrs. Tyson Toppled from Throne by Mrs. O. S. Hill, Kansas City

Highland Park, Ill. — (AP)—The champion was out of the picture and the crown was a toss-up among four survivors from Chicago, Kansas City and San Gabriel, Calif., today as the offensive for the women's western golf championship entered the semi-final salient over the Exmoor country club course.

Chicago led in numbers with two capable survivors—Virginia Van Wile and 18 year old June Beebe—but not in golfing class. Kansas City's lone hope was Mrs. O. S. Hill, an ex-champion who toppled the defending titleholder yesterday, while Mrs. Leona Pressler, who captured the title two years in succession last year and 28 represented San Gabriel, and the far west.

There were several geographic possibilities for the finals, too, as in today's elimination battles Mrs. Hill faced Miss Van Wile while Mrs. Pressler tackled Miss Beebe, one of Chicago's most promising stars of the younger sets. It can wind up with an all-Chicago final, a Kansas City-San Gabriel finish, Chicago versus Kansas City or Gabriel versus Chicago, depending on how the winds of golf blow today.

It was perhaps the smartest semi-final bracket in the tournament's 29 years of play as three of the survivors, Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Pressler, and Miss Van Wile, were players of the scratch handicap variety while Miss Beebe's handicap stood at three.

MOON of DELIGHT by Margaret Bell Houston

CHAPTER 24
THE MARQUESA'S PLANS

PIKE, reflected the marquessa, was a widower now. What was to prevent their combining as they had once combined?

Not here in New Orleans; that was out of the question. But Philly again—Jersey....

The thought had kept her a willing prisoner in her room. For that she stayed inside, did not venture downstairs were Divitt feared she might be recognized.

Divitt, she told herself, was strengthening already after the blow of Molly's death. Today he had even seemed to see her as they passed each other on the balcony.

"How are you, Mister Divitt?" she had asked, and he had answered, "Oh, well enough." She would go in to see him.

Rain—rain—drone on the balcony, dripping from the eaves. Who would have supposed the heavens could hold all this rain?

They did not play so late in the parlors now. Spike would perhaps come up earlier to the office where he counted his gains every night and put them in the safe. Not many gains these nights and he was not long counting them.

She would listen for him to come, give him time....

The marquessa dressed her opulent curves in the red satin gown, combed her black hair carefully, thrust in a jeweled comb, fastened the crescent-shaped earrings....

She waited by the window till Divitt came up the stair. The office door closed. She waited ten minutes more while the rain droned. Then she laid the head of her comb about her and went along the balcony to Divitt's door. She knocked.

"It is me—Carlota."

He opened then, and she stepped in, smiling.

"Where've you been?" he demanded.

"Nowhere," softly. "I'm just going." He closed the door and she added, "If you will let me, I am so lonely."

The evening's gains, a neatly counted pile of bills, lay on the desk. Divitt thrust them into a drawer, banged the drawer shut.

"Let you?" he said. "You've probably been going out every night."

"I have not," protested the marquessa. "But a man—a man I met at the Cranshaws wrote me that if I come back in time I must come up to his rooms for a night's supper tonight. He sent the letter to the Tignon."

The allusion to the Cranshaws was unfortunate. Divitt had reason to be nervous regarding Umberto tonight. It was past the hour when Umberto should have telephoned him. "Uptown 0686?" "No. Wrong number." Then he would have known everything was all right.

The marquessa went on softly. "I am so lonely I say to myself, 'I can go to the supper and tell him I'm leavin' again tomorrow.'"

"Entirely worthy of you. Who is this man?"

The marquessa liked the question and the way Divitt asked it. "Mr. Eric Ledbetter," she answered with dropped eyes, having chosen carefully.

Divitt nodded. "Ledbetter is not in New Orleans," he remarked. "He sailed for Paris and the Orient something like a week ago."

"He must have gone sudden," said the marquessa.

"Just as well you found out, isn't it?" observed Divitt.

"I do not want to go," she answered, laying by her cape. "I am just so lonely. I would much rather talk to you.... It is too bad the parlors have gone down."

"Who says the parlors have gone down?" demanded Divitt.

"But have they not?.... So many people do not come any more."

"It's the new chief of police. They are afraid."

Divitt had risen, walked to the window. This Cranshaw job.... Things had been too easy for Umberto.

Ever since Juanita and the marquessa had come back he had had a lurking premonition of evil.

Molly's death had overshadowed it for a while; later it had returned. In the marquessa's presence he seemed to feel it more. She was like a red omen of disaster.

"I am so sorry for you, Spika," the marquessa's husky murmur. "We had a nice place in Philly, no?"

He did not answer, standing by the window. The marquessa rose, stole to him softly. Her arm was about him before he knew that she was there.

"Spike—caro mio, let us be as we were before."

Divitt turned with such violence that she fell against the desk, staring at him with startled eyes.

The telephone rang behind her.

Divitt picked it up. "Get out," he said, motioning with his head to the door.

The marquessa's eyes began to smolder.

"Pay me what you owe me," she said.

A strange voice was coming from the telephone in Divitt's hand. Divitt pressed the mouthpiece against his chest, spoke again to the marquessa.

"Get the hell out of here."

Toward evening of the next day, the sun came out, went down clear and red. That night there were stars.

Juanita dressed almost automatically, so binding was Molly's last request, so close seemed the prospect of release. Gabreau stopped at her window as she slipped her veil.

"Umberto got caught last night," he said and grinned.

Juanita paused. "Where?"

"A house call de Cranshaws. It in de papers. De marquessa show it to me. I think she glad."

Juanita sat down on the window sill. Release seemed very close. Umberto caught.

"You might have been there, too, Gabreau."

Gabreau shook his head. "If I were here he would not be caught. Divitt need me in de parlor."

"What will they do with him?"

"I don't know. Maybe it will get us all in trouble. De papers say Umberto will tell nothin', but maybe dey will trace him here. Dat what de marquessa say. She is peck' her trunk."

"De paper say it think Umberto have to do all de robberies, but he will not tell what he do wit de loot. He will not tell nothin'.... Look! What I tell you?"

Juanita looked, saw the marquessa's trunk being carried down the stairs. She stared. Her veil, fastened the pearl ring on the cord that dropped inside her breast, followed Gabreau down the stair.

The marquessa opened her door softly and looked out. Yet she knew that Divitt was not there. He had been gone all day. Now he was in the parlors.

The marquessa had been gone also, but finally secured a room on a steamer bound for Spain. Her passport she had had for months. This was the moment she had awaited when every one should be in the parlors.

In the dark of the balcony the marquessa crept to Divitt's window, broke a pane. Quickly she unfastened the catch, crawled in. Divitt's light before had thrust the counted bills into a drawer, rather than work the combination of the safe in her presence.

Immediately after the telephone call she had heard him leave the office. In the disturbed hours that had followed there was a chance that he had not thought of the money again.

The marquessa laughed softly as she opened the drawer. She pushed the bills into her bag, opening the other door, going out by way of the Tignon.

"Back at her old tricks," laughed the marquessa.

At the dock she took time to scribble a note:

"The DuBois crown jewels, the Fouché pearls and other things you seek are in the room over the kitchen at 8 Michel street."

She wrote on the envelope the name of the new chief of police, put on a special delivery stamp and dropped it in a box.

(Copyright, Dodd, Mead and Co.)

A broken bank... a woman's faint... police—then from Divitt's place Saturday a scream!

SHOULD BE GOOD

"What's good for dinner tonight, waiter?"

"I recommend the veal, sir; the boss' prodigal son returned today."

PUSH PLANS TO PAVE TRUNK Z NEAR KAUKAUNA

County Highway Committee Expected to Advertise for Bids Soon

Kaukauna—Bids for paving county trunk Z leading east out of the city probably will be advertised for next week by the county highway committee. The county board of supervisors has appropriated an additional $2,000 to assist in paving the stretch, along with the $5,000 already appropriated and with $2,000 provided by the town of Buchanan. The $5,000 was originally appropriated to assist in paving highway 55 on Crooks-ave, but the amount has been set aside for the county trunk paving since the state highway committee made the full appropriation to pave highway 55.

F. M. Charlesworth, Kaukauna city engineer, completed a survey of the project Wednesday afternoon. He will submit his figures to the county highway committee. The plans call for a 20-foot roadway leading from the stretch already paved by the city to the top of the hill to connect with the nine foot concrete on the hill.

The county board of supervisors made the additional appropriation after the city of Kaukauna had adopted a resolution asking that the money already appropriated be used in paving the stretch. The town of Buchanan also furnished its proportion.

While there will be no stipulation in the contract that Kaukauna labor be used, it is likely that Kaukauna men will make up most of the crew.

TRAPSHOOTERS ENTER CONVENTION TOURNEY

Kaukauna—A team to represent the Kaukauna Elk lodge at the trap shoot to be held in accordance with the annual convention of state Elks at Sheboygan Saturday is being organized by the local organization. Five members are needed to make up a team, and four already have agreed to enter. Those who already have signified their intention of taking part are William Harwood, Joseph Jensen, John Ceppes, and Frank Hugenberg. Delegates to the convention are R. H. McCarty, M. Niesen, and N. Haupt.

MERENESS TRANSFERS DOWN WHIP-POOR-WILLS

Kaukauna—Playing their last city softball league game Mereness Transfers, loop leaders, downed Power's Whip-Poor-Will at the library playgrounds Thursday evening, 7 to 3. The Whip-Poor-Will are runners-up in the league standings. The North Side Merchants tied with the Kalupa Bakers at Park school, 3 and 3. The game was called in the seventh inning because of darkness. Friday evening Knights of Columbus meet Reggie Brewster at Park school, and Mueller Boots play the Nitingales at the library playgrounds.

SOCIAL ITEMS

Kaukauna—A meeting of the Aid Association of Lutherans of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran church will be held at the Lutheran schoolhouse at 7:30 Monday evening. This will be the August meeting.

Mrs. Joseph Wiesler was entertained at a 6:30 dinner Tuesday evening at her home on Island-st.

The Women's Aid of Trinity Evangelical church will meet Sept. 2 at the Lutheran schoolhouse. Hostesses will be Mesdames L. Rogers, A. Piepenberg, N. Rasmussen, and H. Piepenberg Sr., according to Mrs. F. Mielke, secretary.

BOY SCOUT RETURNS SUNDAY FROM CAMP

Kaukauna—Oris Schmalz, the only boy scout of Troop No. 20 to attend the Eagle scout camp at Woodruff, will return to Kaukauna Sunday. He has been studying trail-making methods and other woodcraft for two weeks. Several of the tenderfoot scouts of the local organization are camping near Greenleaf to earn merit badges.

NEAR COMPLETION OF WORK ON DIRECTORY

Kaukauna—Compilation of the new issue of the telephone directory for Kaukauna is almost completed, according to Frank Guert, manager of the local telephone exchange of the Wisconsin Telephone Co. According to Mr. Guert, corrections of names and addresses and other data for the book are being received daily and the book will probably go to press Monday. Distribution of the books will take place in October.

NORTH GATE ON BRIDGE DAMAGED BY MOTORIST

Kaukauna—One of the gates on the north end of the Wisconsin-ave bridge was damaged Thursday night by an unidentified motorist. The car, a small roadster, crashed through the gate just as the bridge was being opened. After the car had passed through it sped away towards the south side.

VOLLEYBALL PLAYERS SCHEDULE PRACTICES

Kaukauna—Volleyball players will hold a practice session at the gymnasium in the Outagamie Rural Normal school in preparation for play in the Fox river valley volleyball league. A team will be organized soon, according to Norman Gerhart, manager of the club. Practice will be held every Tuesday.

SNOTHER GRASS FIRE

Kaukauna—A grass fire was extinguished by the fire department Thursday afternoon in the ravine on Tenth-st. The call was turned in when the blaze began to threaten houses along Tenth-st.

OPEN SOFTBALL SERIES MONDAY

Mereness Transfers, North Side Merchants to Play for Title

Kaukauna—Mereness Transfers and the North Side Merchants will meet at 5:30 Monday evening at Park school diamond in the first of the series of games for the city softball champions shift. The North Side Merchants won the first half of the season, while the Transfers won the league championship this half. The second of the series will be played Wednesday at St. Mary's school diamond. Friday evening the team will meet again at the park selected by the team scoring the most runs in the first two games.

Fans are especially interested in the meetings of the teams as the Merchants have never scored a victory over the Transfers in the eight games played between them this season. The Merchants took the title away from the Transfers in the first half of the season by one game lead, as the Transfers lost one more game than the Merchants. A large crowd is expected to witness the games.

KAUKAUNA GUN CLUB PLANS PRACTICE SHOOT

Kaukauna—The Kaukauna Gun club will hold a practice shoot at the traps near the sulphur spring beginning at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. Ammunition can be bought at the grounds, according to Joseph Jansen, club president.

GRADE SARAH-ST

Kaukauna—Grading on Sarah-st was started Friday morning by workers of the North Road district under the direction of Thomas Reardon. Cinders were placed on the street and leveled. All of the holes were filled with cinders.

and actual class work will begin Tuesday morning.

POLICE CHIEF GOES TO FUNERAL AT MILWAUKEE

Kaukauna—Chief of Police R. H. McCarty attended the funeral of Michael Manion at Milwaukee Thursday morning. Manion was killed in an automobile crash between Oconomowoc and Milwaukee Monday morning. He was known to Kaukauna residents, as he was frequently in Kaukauna on business. He was a solicitor of the Police Association annual publication.

PIGEON CLUB TO HOLD ANOTHER SUNDAY RACE

Kaukauna—About 250 pigeons will be shipped by the Kaukauna Pigeon club to Neillsville where they will be released at 7 o'clock Sunday morning. Fourteen loft owners will enter birds in the race. The birds probably will arrive in Kaukauna about 9:30 Sunday morning if the weather is clear.

TWO PAROCHIAL SCHOOLS OPEN DOORS ON MONDAY

Kaukauna—Two Kaukauna Catholic parochial schools will open Monday morning, according to pastors of the two congregations. They are St. Mary's and Holy Cross. Students attending the two schools will receive instructions Monday morning.

NORMAL SCHOOL TO OPEN NEXT WEEK

Students Register Monday—Classes to Be Resumed Tuesday

Kaukauna—Students desiring to attend the Outagamie Rural Normal school this year will enroll at the school office beginning at 9 o'clock Monday morning, according to W. P. Hagman, principal. Inquiries at the school have been numerous enough to indicate a large attendance this year, Mr. Hagman said. He believed that the number that will enroll this year will exceed the total of last year. A class of 63 students graduated last June.

Actual class work will begin Tuesday morning. High school graduates are trained for teaching rural schools.

STOPS TRAIN TO SAVE CHILD FROM DROWNING

Ottawa, Ill. (AP)—John Zuecher, an engineer for the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad, was running a train across a bridge over a canal yesterday when he noticed a tiny hand sticking up from the water.

Stopping the locomotive, he climbed down and pulled Phyllis May Farwell, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Farrell from the water. She was unconscious, but was revived by artificial respiration administered by employees of a public service company, summoned by the engineer.

The child had wandered away from her home, a block distant, and apparently fell into the water.

CAPITAL CITY HAS CONSTANT PAYROLL OF $175,000,000

That Is Reason Why Washington Seems to Be Hit Less by Depression

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

Washington—Uncle Sam has in Washington the largest single payroll disbursed in any American community. It amounts to about $175,000,000 a year and it doesn't fluctuate. That is why the capital appears to have been touched less seriously by the depression than any other city of comparable size.

Average incomes here have been little disturbed. Because the tourist business has not fallen off appreciably the chief effect of the depression has been felt by persons with large incomes which are based on investments outside the District of Columbia.

Retail prices, rents and wages seem to have been maintained nearly at their previous levels, as compared with other cities of more or less similar size. There have been some instances of reduction in privately paid wages, but these may almost be described as isolated. Washington is not a distributing center and its normal wholesale business is relatively low. Such small industries and factories as exist here, dependent on local consumption, have not been seriously hit because of the capital's sustained purchasing power.

Above Average

Retail trade, the main business here, normally runs above the average. In 1929 it was $681 per capita, as against a $630 average in 35 selected cities of comparable size and a national average of $497. Department store sales have increased more than two per cent in the first half of this year and fell off nearly three per cent for the rest of this federal reserve district as a whole. Only Washington, among cities in the district, showed a gain. Building permits in June increased $832,000 over June, 1930, while falling off about $700,000 in the rest of the reserve district. Collections on credit accounts by retail stores here are said to be about 40 per cent better than collections as a whole elsewhere. Washington newspapers showed a larger gain in volume of newspaper advertising in the first six months of 1930 than those of any other among 80 cities and the only cities to show a gain were Cleveland, Jacksonville, Milwaukee, Omaha, Rochester and Wichita.

Some Unemployment

Not that the city hasn't experienced any unemployment. There has been a certain amount of it for the last year or more and quite a few people find themselves stranded here.

At this writing about 400 employees of the 101 Ranch, their show gone broke, after subsisting as best they could with some help from the community, have just left for their homes. Their animals went with them and their efforts to keep their clutches on the show property until they received six weeks' back pay led to a court fight.

The 400 circus workers were wished on the capital, however, and do not present such a factor in the local unemployment problem, as some 4,000 employees of the Census Bureau who must be gradually dismissed because their temporary work is done.

routine office work, although frequently they take a clerk along to work with them during the summer. Occasionally, one hears, a member dispenses with secretarial aid for the months between sessions and saves the clerical allowance granted by the government.

Build a Healthy Body

With Fairmont Cream Top Milk

Fairmont Milk contains every necessary food for body building. Its regular use insures a permanence of health and natural vigor that can be obtained from no other source. Try it — but be sure your milk quality is the finest. Fairmont Milk is an ideal food.

You can be sure of it by watching the quantity and richness of its cream. Let our Cream Top Bottle be your daily accurate index. The cream line at the narrow neck demands full quantity and the finest quality. For it takes good milk to fill the bulging neck with cream that you can whip. That's why we use this bottle. We know that our milk would never fall below the high Cream Top standard. ...

HELP YOURSELF TO HEALTH

Kellogg
KELLOGG COMPANY
BATTLE CREEK, MICH. • LONDON, CAN.

THINK of all you get! Many delicious treats for breakfast. And there's lunch—what could be better than Kellogg's and milk with fruits or honey added?

Then, the children's evening meal—Kellogg's are wonderfully wholesome and easy to digest. And many a man knows them as a delicious and healthful bedtime snack.

Always ready to serve—no trouble or work. Costing only a few cents a package. Of all the foods you buy, Kellogg's Corn Flakes are indeed one of the most economical and convenient. No wonder they are the most popular ready-to-eat cereal in the world.

Wise buyers put the name Kellogg on their grocery lists. No other corn flakes have ever been able to duplicate the matchless flavor and crispness of genuine Kellogg's. More than 12,000,000 people prove this every day by buying Kellogg's Corn Flakes.

Look for the famous red-and-green package—with the inner-seal waxite wrapper that keeps the flakes crispy-fresh even after opening. Still another exclusive Kellogg advantage. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

The story of Voecks is the story of quality!

The story of quality in its truest sense is the story of Voecks Bros. better meats. Here is the market where the term "quality" has never been misused. No matter what it may mean at double-standard shops, here it simply means the VERY BEST THERE IS.

We know that there are no better meats sold in the city than those you get at Voecks. Our high percentage of repeat customers (nearly every Voecks customer comes back regularly) has shown us the wisdom of our policy.

If you want to know the story of quality, come to Voecks. Watch the difference in your meals!

We never knew until the other day how fast fish grew. A friend of ours caught one last week that grows a foot every time he mentions it. He had just returned from his vacation and when we asked him if he felt any change, he said: "Not a thing!" Here's another striking announcement. Even bigger savings on our new stock of staple groceries and standard food products. Every pantry requirement, featuring a quality excellency never before equalled, has been reduced to combat the depression.

COARSE GRAINS ARE LEADERS ON CHICAGO MART

Forecast of Light Frost in Midwest Helps Price Advance

BY GILES L. FINDLEY
Associated Press Market Writer
Chicago—(AP)—Coarse grains took the market leadership away from wheat on the board of trade today, both corn and oats advancing sharply after minor declines at the start. The mid-month crop report of Nebraska bankers which made the present condition of the corn crop in that state 57 per cent of normal as compared with the government's August 1 estimate of 71 per cent had considerable influence. Forecasts of light frost tonight in parts of Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Wisconsin helped prices advance. Wheat market showed relatively little change, easing slightly on a quiet demand, but showing resistance to pressure.

Corn rallied to above yesterday's close when small buying orders disclosed a marked lack of offerings. Report of heavy rains in Iowa were regarded as bearish at the start as a possible relief from drought. Corn loaned strength to wheat. Unofficial reports from Nebraska said corn had deteriorated 24 per cent in the last month. Light frost were forecast for parts of Wisconsin tonight. Oats strengthened with other grains. Provisions were stronger with hogs and grains.

ANOTHER UPTURN IS SEEN IN HOG PRICES

Figures Are Still 40 Cents Lower Than Week Ago, However

Chicago—(AP)—Another upturn in hog values recovered 10-20c from recent declines, but current prices are still mostly 40c lower than a week ago. Packers received 2,000 hogs on through billing out of the fresh local run of 13,000 and 5,000 state hogs were on hand. Light hogs were wanted, shippers and local traders buying the 170 to 200 lbs. First at $6.65-6.90, while heavy butchers and packing hogs did not get much action early. Strictly choice hogs weighing around 200 lbs. were in best demand and shippers offered 6.55 for selected weights.

Cattle trade had a fairly substantial weekend supply to draw on. The 2,500 matured cattle ran largely to steers of fair to good quality, but choice kinds were scarce and the 1,000 calves reported carried a large percentage of good to choice vealers. Prices were held generally steady. Packers received 105 head of cattle on direct consignment from outside points.

Only two cars of lambs were forwarded direct to packing plants of the 12,000 fresh arrivals reported in the local sheep sheds. Some shrinkage was noted in the week's supply and prices have improved, but buyers offered determined resistance today to any further advance in prices.

Arrivals for the week thus far stand: 50,557 cattle, 108,258 hogs, 93,584 sheep, 48,509 cattle, 93,745 hogs, 97,752 sheep for the same time last week and 45,026 cattle, 105,074 hogs, 109,635 sheep for the corresponding period last year.

Old John Gottlieb Wendel, the last of whose daughters recently died leaving one hundred million dollars in real estate to charity, always said, "Buy land, but never sell it."

Take that unto yourself, and with it the fact that with average growth land now worth one hundred million eighty years hence will be worth two hundred million.

Thousands have bought forest land to see the giant trees replaced by towering buildings. Appleton offers the same opportunity. Parcels of undeveloped land have many times held the most attractive futures.

Dividends

New York—(AP)—Commercial Credit company has declared a quarterly dividend of 40 cents on the common stock, payable Sept. 30 to stockholders of record Sept. 19, placing the stock on a $1.60 annual basis, against $2 previously.

A. E. Duncan, chairman, said "the Board decided to make a reduction of 20 per cent in the dividend on the common stock in order that a substantial amount of current net income may be restored to the surplus account."

He added domestic operations continue satisfactory, with volume running slightly in excess of 1930 and arrangements have just been completed to acquire a very substantial amount of new business.

FOOD STORES LEAD IN RETAIL TRADE

Census Bureau Report Is Based on Figures from 957 Cities in 48 States

Washington—(AP)—Food stores led in volume in net national retail sales in 1929 amounting to $50,033,550,752 as reported from 1,549,188 retail stores to the census bureau from 957 separate cities and 48 states.

In the survey, the census bureau, in announcing the results, today said 192 different kinds of retail stores were listed and the food group made 22.61 per cent of their total sales.

These sales aggregated 32 per cent of the total made by all stores.

The automotive group, motor cars and accessories dealers, filling stations and garages accounted for 19.05 per cent of sales. General merchandise tallied 14.27 per cent; apparel stores 8.62 per cent; furniture and household goods 4.57 per cent; restaurants 4.19 per cent; lumber and building materials 7.27 per cent.

The filling stations of the land were numbered approximately 124,000, and were found to be doing a business of nearly $1,900,000,000.

The 135,600 restaurants tallied a $2,097,000,000 total.

Radio shops, new to the last decade, were checked in at $355,000,000. Drug stores, more diversified in stock than in earlier years, tallied $1,653,000,000, of which $1,153,153,858 went to "drug stores with furnishings."

The 20,100 jewelry stores reported $587,000,000. Hardware and tallied $861,000,000. Electrical, gas, and other household appliances made stock in trade for 10,500 stores during a $226,000,000 business.

ONLY FOUR ELIGIBLE FOR ENGINEER EXAMS

Madison—(P)—Only four men are eligible to take the examination to be conducted here tomorrow for the post of state highway engineer. A. E. Garey, director of the bureau of personnel, announced today on the basis of applications received.

Among the candidates are Martin W. Torkelson, state regional planning director and at present acting highway engineer; John T. Donaghey, former highway engineer and now chief engineer of the executive unemployment commission and Walter Mahbett, assistant city engineer of Madison.

W. C. Bueow resigned the post of state highway engineer several weeks ago.

HOOR-GLASS IS SYMBOL OF MODERN ROASTING METHOD

Accuracy Is Assured in Controlled Roasting—Hills Bros. Patented Process for Roasting Coffee

Better than anything else, an hour-glass symbolizes the exactness of Hills Bros. patented Controlled Roasting process. For as the accuracy of the hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow... a little at a time... so the wonderful, unvarying flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee is produced by this patented process that roasts evenly, continuously... a little at a time.

This is very different from ordinary, bulk-roasting methods. The results are very different too. You can judge them yourself, if you compare Hills Bros. with other coffees. Hills Bros. has a finer, uniform flavor. Roasting is a little at a time makes this possible. For every berry receives the right amount of heat. None is underdone, none is overdone. The same delightful flavor is assured in every pound. Bulk-roasted coffee can't guarantee these things. No wonder Hills Bros. Coffee has and holds so many friends!

Hills Bros. Coffee comes in vacuum cans that keep it fresh. Air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is removed and kept out of these cans. Even ordinary, "air-tight" cans won't keep coffee fresh. Ask for Hills Bros. Coffee by name, and look for the Arab trademark on the can. Hills Bros. Coffee, Inc., Chicago, Illinois. © 1931

DAUGHTER-IN-LAW WINS MADISON COURT BATTLE

Madison—(P)—The rights of a daughter-in-law have superseded those of a wife in a court case before Superior Judge S. B. Schein here.

Andrew Suwalski assigned his property to Mrs. Grace M. Suwalski, a daughter-in-law who cared for him after his second wife deserted him.

The wife claimed the property but Judge Schein awarded it to the daughter-in-law.

Judge Schein ruled that the wife had forfeited her right to the property.

TRAINING SEVERE FOR HIGHWAY POLICE

Education for Each Prospective Patrolman Costs State $500

Harrisburg, Pa.—One of the few colleges erected solely for training officers of the law is the school here when members of the Pennsylvania Highway Patrol are trained in their duties of keeping the highways of the state safe for motorists.

It costs the state about $500 for the three months of schooling given each prospective patrolman. And it's a hard life for the student. The first week he never sees inside a classroom. He spends his time doing kitchen police work and other such menial jobs. The second week, however, his classwork begins, and thereafter from 6 in the morning until 10 at night he is put through a rigorous program that tests not only his mental capacity for the job but even more his moral and physical fitness. The recruit studies such subjects as the principles of criminal law and criminal procedure. He is instructed in the automobile laws of the state. Even arithmetic and spelling are part of the course. He studies also the geography of Pennsylvania and its highways. He is taught first aid. He must know such things as when automobile headlights are functioning properly, and he is trained to use a typewriter to make out reports. So severe is the course that 10 to 20 per cent of the recruits are unable to pass examinations at the end of two months.

WANT MORE FARMERS TO TEST THEIR SOIL

Farmers who wish soil tests made this fall should make known their desires to Gus Sell, county agent, immediately, he announced today. Several weeks ago the county agent announced that soil tests could be made. Since then he has received several requests. More tests can be handed, however, he said. The state soils laboratory sends men here to take samples of farm soils. The tests are made at Madison.
